Resources for Bullying

Bullying can permanently impact a child's self-esteem, confidence, and education. If you think a child is being bullied, talk to the child or an adult who can help. No child should have to suffer because they are being bullied.

The Difference between Tattling and Reporting

Students are often afraid to report what they see because they are afraid they are tattling. Children should understand the difference between tattling and reporting so they can take action when needed. Tattling is usually defined as trying to get someone else in trouble. Reporting is defined as getting help to protect someone who is being hurt or is in a dangerous situation.

How Families Can Help

- Talk to your child about bullying. Help your child understand what it means to be bullied.
- Explain the difference between tattling and reporting to your child. Encourage your child to report any actions that appear harmful or dangerous.
- If you see or hear about bullying at school, tell a teacher, administrator, school psychologist, social worker, or counselor.
- Download the KnowBullying app from SAMHSA.gov
- Be aware that bullying can take place through technology, especially phones and social media, and be prepared to take steps if your child is bullying or being bullied.

MPS International Newcomer Center

<https://mps.milwaukee.k12.wi.us/en/Programs/International-Newcomer-Center.htm>

Milwaukee Public Schools offers a newcomer program for recent refugee and immigrant students with limited English language proficiency. The program serves students in Gr. 5–8 and classes feature intensive English language development and cultural support. Classes are aligned to state standards.

The center is located in the Milwaukee Academy of Chinese Language (MACL) and South Division High School. After two years, students continue their education at MACL or make a transition to a school of their choice.

MPS has an English as a Second Language (ESL) support teacher who connects with any school where newcomer students are placed. This teacher meets with school teams to ensure ongoing resources and support. For information, contact Sarah Borges, ESL curriculum specialist, at (414) 475-8732 or borgess@milwaukee.k12.wi.us.
