Student Fees, Fines and Charges

The District does not assess fees to parents for services provided, or for the use of books or materials. Parents are expected to pay the normal book rental and other fees assessed by their district of residence directly to their district. These fees should be paid, even if their child is attending a class in a school district, which is different from their district of residence. Students will pay for loss or destruction of schoolbooks or other school-owned materials.
