Summer reading 2024

Our summer reading bingo board is your ticket to exploring books connected to all your favorite subjects! Are you a science enthusiast? Sports fan? History buff? Read those whole columns! But our bingo board isn't just about sticking to what you know; take a leap into new genres and challenge yourself with different topics. With each book you read and each bingo square you check off, you are one step closer to awesome prizes.

The challenge is on!

How does book bingo work?

1. You should read at least two books over the summer. The more you read, the more chances you will have to win cool prizes.*
 2. Peruse the suggested list for book ideas, and use the library, Sora and your local libraries to gather books.
 3. Spend the summer reading, enjoying your books and filling in your bingo card! You can choose to fill out the form online as you finish each book (the best option) or enter all of them online at the end of the summer. (Top tip: use your card as a bookmark!)
 4. Bring your bingo board(s) to school in the fall.
 5. At the start of the school year, our community will share books we have read through various hands-on activities.
- * For each BINGO (row, column or diagonal) you complete on the bingo board, you will earn one raffle ticket.

Challenge alert: If you complete the whole board, you get an extra three tickets! In other words, the more you read, the more raffle tickets you will earn.

Frequently asked questions

- Q: If I read a book that fits multiple categories, can I use it more than once?
- A: You can only use a book for one square, even if it could fit in more than one category.
- Q: Can I use a book I've already read, even if I reread it?
- A: The books should all be new to you.
- Q: Do I have to pick a book from the provided list?
- A: Nope! You may choose books that are not on the list.
- Q: Why are there non-fiction boxes in every column?
- A: We are reading across ASL! This means that your non-fiction choice has to relate to that category. For example, a sports player biography would fall under PE/health, while a book about climate change would fall under the STEM category.

What do these categories mean!?

- Realistic fiction: A story that can happen in real life.
- Global fiction: A book that takes place somewhere outside the US or the UK.
- Graphic novel: A novel that uses art to enhance the story.
- Non-fiction/bio/memoir: Non-fiction is stuff that really happened. A memoir is written by the person it is about; biography is written by someone else. There is a box for non-fiction/bio/memoir in every category this year!
- Mystery/adventure: A book that keeps you on the edge of your seat.
- Sci-fi/fantasy: A book that is out of this world—or in this world, but totally extraordinary.
- Historical fiction: A book set in the past based on historical events, with mostly imagined characters.
- Family book club: Read the same book (at the same time) as another member of your family.
- Novel in verse/poetry: A book of short poems. Or a novel that is written as one super-long poem.
- Book turned movie/TV: A book that has been turned into a movie or TV show.
- Magazine (STEM): I get to read a whole magazine for this category? Yep! It should just be related to STEM (science, technology, engineering, math).
- Translated/book in another language: A book that was originally written in another language, and then translated into English. Or a book that is written in another language that you speak.
- Sports fiction: Where the thrill of the game collides with the imagination.
