WL 941 Latin I (Decker)Required:

- › Something to write all class notes in (either a spiral-bound notebook or notebook paper inside a 3-ring binder. Whatever works best for the student is acceptable.)
- › A folder or binder to organize packets, handouts, notes, and other course materials. This can be the same binder that keeps class notes. It is not mandatory for the Latin binder to be separate from a different course's binder, as long as it is organized and usable.
- › Writing implements of at least two different colors or types. Pens and pencils are both acceptable, as long as handwriting and ink color are both legible. Students who opt to use pens should bring their own whiteout tape or correction fluid to class.
- › at least one highlighter of any color
- › one dry-erase marker of any color, to be kept and used solely by the student during whiteboard exercises
- › 3"x5" index cards (at least 300 cards) with a ring

Suggested:

- › standard post-it notes

These classes use a lot of color-coded notes, so students are encouraged to have a variety of pen or pencil colors, and a variety of highlighter colors.

WL 942 Latin II (Alsop)Required:

- › Something to write all class notes in (either a spiral-bound notebook or notebook paper inside a 3-ring binder. Whatever works best for the student is acceptable.)
- › A folder or binder to organize packets, handouts, notes, and other course materials. This can be the same binder that keeps class notes. It is not mandatory for the Latin binder to be separate from a different course's binder, as long as it is organized and usable.
- › Writing implements of at least two different colors or types. Pens and pencils are both acceptable, as long as handwriting and ink color are both legible. Students who opt to use pens should bring their own whiteout tape or correction fluid to class.
- › at least one highlighter of any color
- › one dry-erase marker of any color, to be kept and used solely by the student during whiteboard exercises
- › 3"x5" index cards (at least 300 cards) with a ring

Suggested:

- › standard post-it notes

These classes use a lot of color-coded notes, so students are encouraged to have a variety of pen or pencil colors, and a variety of highlighter colors.
