JEWISH AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

- May was declared as JAHM by former president George W. Bush in 2006.
- Jewish people first arrived on American soil in 1654 in New Amsterdam.
- Jewish people have been advocates for other minorities as they participated in the Civil Rights Movement, having showed up at voter registrations, rallies, sit-ins, e.t.c.
- Some Jewish American figures include: Garrett E. Reisman, Judy Blume, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Stan Lee, Sandy Koufax and Albert Einstein.

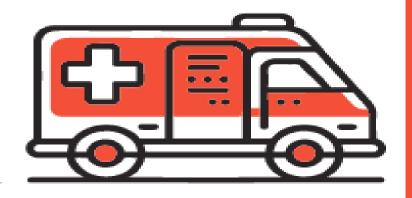

NATIONAL WOMEN IN AEROSPACE DAY

May 20th

- The day celebrates women of the aerospace industry including those working in commercial aviation, defense, U.A.V.s, helicopters, and space.
- It's also a day to encourage more women to pursue a career in aero engineering and aerospace.
- In 1938, Elsie MacGill from Canada, became the first female aviation engineer in the world.
- Some famous women in the aerospace industry are Harriet Quimby, Bessie Coleman, and Amelia Earhart.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES WEEK

- EMS usually means the entire network of emergency medical service personnel who are involved in providing a swift response to medical emergencies.
- Celebrate EMS week by educating yourself and loved ones about safety, actively thanking someone who works in EMS and even sharing stories about how EMS workers made an impact in your personal life.
