The Kyle Foster Memorial Fund Annual Award will be given to a junior or senior in high school who could benefit the most from this recognition and encouragement. The student should be a creative, sensitive soul, and the award will help them pursue a positive, creative path. The $500 award can be used to pursue a class, trade, or purchase supplies to support and advance their creative mind and skills.

I'd like this award to be open to students who could benefit from this award the most, so awardees do not need to have the highest grades or be pursuing a college degree. Some students struggle academically and may not get the highest grades, and they may lack the confidence, support, knowledge, and finances to feel like they can go on to higher education. Some may choose not to go onto college for many reasons. I simply want this award to help keep a creative, sensitive soul's chin-up and recognize their beautiful and needed sensitivity and creativity.

Awardees can be nominated by peers, teachers, staff, and guidance counselors, and students can apply themselves. Guidance counselors will make the decision on who is awarded.

This award is founded by Kyle Foster's sister, Valerie Foster Githinji. Kyle graduated from Whitesboro High School in 1993; Valerie graduated in 1994.

Funds will be raised annually by friends, family, and those who want to support this endeavor.
