WORK-BASED LEARNING AND EXTENDED LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES

Work Experience Opportunities
 CTE students in many cases can pursue what is called a "work-based learning" opportunity or an internship involving a job outside of school. "Work-based learning" experiences are always paid and students can earn high school credit. Internships are typically paid, but students do not earn academic credit. Individual schools and CTE teachers work with local employers to arrange these opportunities for their students, so your program instructor is the best source of information for what your own school offers.

SkillsUSA Washington
 SkillsUSA is a national organization for students exploring trade, industrial, technical health, and service-related careers. Areas of competition include architectural drafting, construction, carpentry, computer programming, web design, and nurse assisting. This organization promotes superior work skills, life-long education, leadership, teamwork, citizenship, and community service among its student members. It also strives to build and reinforce self-confidence, work ethic, and communication skills.

Construction Trades: This Core Plus program will prepare students to take the next steps for a career in the construction industry. Instruction in safety, professionalism, and the construction process, as well as tools, equipment, print reading, materials selection, project planning, and management as well as estimating and bidding will all be covered through project-based learning supported by industry-backed instructional resources.
