Background

I was born in Seattle. Washington has been my home for most of my life. My husband and I have four children. We have two four children. The girls have families of their own now with a grandchild due in March next year. Evan is a freshman in college and Aidan is an 8th grader. We have an adorable Maltese named Maci.

This is my 10th year teaching 5th grade at East Olympia.

Education

My first college experience was in a technical school where I earned a diploma in Dental Assisting. After working in that field for more than a decade, I decided to make a career change and find a more fulfilling profession. This journey took me through Pierce Community College and then the University of Washington to earn a Masters in Education. I have been teaching for 20 years.
