Notes:

Flipped calculus, presented by Danielle Crandell

Preso: vital calc materials that are prepared by two very qualified teachers, it's linked to college board's materials, and provides students with resources to learn calculus.

Q: How often are the materials updated?

A: Pretty often. AP exam questions are from 2022 (likely the most recent test that's been released).

Vote: record shows we're ready to move this forward to the board.

Business U, presented by Katie Gossell

Current, timely issues for all business classes, all in 1 platform. Syncs well with Canvas.

Q1: does the tool allow the teacher to "tune" the tool to choose topics to use.

A1: yes, teacher uses a filter to search for topics relevant to her lessons.

Vote: record shows we're ready to move this forward to the board.

AP Comparative Govt textbook, presented by Lisa Stanley

APCG showcases govts. From 6 different countries (Iran, Russia, China, GBritain, Mexico, Nigeria)

Karen Waples (author) has also authored the already approved AP Govt text, and AP Comp Govt.).

Q1: which schools are offering APCG?

A1: RHS only

Q2: students said the book is more readable? Does that mean the book won't challenge our students?

A2: No, they meant the layout is more attractive and easier to access, it's not a lower reading level.

Q3: are other local districts using this book?

A3: we'll reach out to other districts to find out what they offer.

Q4: how does the current RHS teacher feel about this book?

A4: she likes it

Q5: Will the book actually be used as the basis of the course?

A5: yes, should be about 70% of the content that's coming from the book.
