

CCSD is Connecting

Charleston County School District is partnering with Naviance to provide a comprehensive college and career readiness solution for middle and high schools that helps connect academic achievement to post-secondary goals. You can find the tools that you need to maximize every student's potential and improve institutional effectiveness in Naviance.

These tools can also be used by students in Family Connection, which provides one place for students to identify their strengths and align their interests to long-term college and career goals.

Students and families can access a planning portal that includes tools for self-discovery, goal setting, college research, career exploration, and individual learning plans.
