The WPS Superintendent and School Committee are legally responsible for all matters relating to the operation of the WPS. The district policy delegates the responsibility for selecting library materials to the certified school library media specialist. These materials are defined as both print and non print materials. The final responsibility for recommending purchasing lies with the professionally trained and certified library media specialist.

Criteria for Selection of Materials according to the American Library Association

- Represent differing viewpoints on controversial issues
- Provide a global perspective and promote diversity by including materials by authors and illustrators of all cultures

These materials will assist the student in gaining an awareness and understanding of the contributions made by a variety of constituencies

Policies

- Include a variety of sources in physical and virtual formats including print and non print

In selecting materials for inclusion in the library media center, the library media specialist will evaluate the existing collection and curriculum needs. They will work to balance curriculum needs with student personal interest and learning. They will consult appropriate reviewing sources including but not limited to the following:

Policies

Collection Evaluation

The collection will be reviewed and evaluated by a certified library media specialist. Collections will be reviewed taking into account qualitative and quantitative measurements. Some measurement tools may include: curriculum mapping, circulation statistics, collection statistics, direct examination. These measures will ensure that the collections are relevant, effective and appropriate to each school's needs. Library media specialists will conduct such evaluations since they know their community, curriculum, and collection.

3. The library owns duplicate copies and the item is no longer in demand
4. Item has an updated later edition
