Investigation Underway at Selma High School

State and local law enforcement officials are conducting an investigation to determine what led to the sudden illness of two Selma High School teens. The students were transported to the hospital shortly after 12:30 p.m. today. “The overall wellness and safety of our students are our main priority,” says Selma City Schools Superintendent Dr. Zickeyous Byrd. “Selma High’s faculty and staff are trained to handle situations of this magnitude, and they followed protocol.”

No other student illnesses were reported. Parents were notified immediately by the Remind App about the incident. For more information, contact Cynthia Milledge at (334) 399-7340.
