SYRIANS BLAME THE BISHOP.

ASK THE POLICE TO SAVE THEM FROM VIOLENCE.

Talk in the Quarter That the Rev. Raphael Hawaweeny Has Called a Meeting to Avenge Newspaper Criticisms—Only a Peaceful Gathering, So He Says.

R. Fulton Cutting has sent this reply to the Republican invitation to a conference:

"Hon. William Halpin, Chairman Executive Committee of the Republican City Committee, New York City.

"My Deas Sir: I am in receipt of an invitation from you to attend a conference at the Republican Club on Thursday, for the purpose of considering nominations for a general movement to secure to this city an administration of its affairs under which the public utility corporations will not be the masters of the people of this city. New York's Syrian quarter is in a state of more than usual unrest. Many men prominent in the picturesque little colony are marked for slaughter, so the gossip of the "While the Citizens' Union is in hearty sympathy with this purpose, it remains firmly persuaded that the separation of municipal from State and national politics, with freedom from partizan domination, is essential to sound administration. Assuming from the attitude of the Republican party in the last two municipal elections that it assents to this principle, the Citizens' Union will be glad to confer with it and other organizations.

"The newspapers of this morning state that among other organizations the Greater New York Democracy is to be invited to the proposed conference on Thursday. I trust this is an error. After the experience of the campaign of 1903 it would be impossible for the Citizens' Union to confer with that organization." Yours very truly,

"Chairman Citizens' Union." neighborhood runs, and persons who once walked abroad without fear now take to e middle of the street and give a wide berth to alleys and darkened hallways.

A committee sent to Police Commissioner McAdoo yesterday a petition asking for protection. In the little restaurants where the merchants gather to eat queer dishes and to sip aarak strangers are looked upon askance. So far no one has been killed, no one molested, but to all intents and purposes war is waging.

The cause of all this trouble is the Rev. Raphael Hawaweeny, Bishop of the Orthodox Greek Church in Pacific street, Brooklyn. The New York Syrians declare that the Bishop has incited his followers to rise against the lawloving, peaceful residents of lower Washington street and that certain sidents of that section are in danger.

This is how it all came about, according to the gossips of the quarter: Syrian newspapers, they say, will accept for publication almost any article, provided money accompanies the request for publicity. Lately there have appeared in certain Syrian papers paragraphs that reflected upon the character of well known Syrians. The men attacked protested, and most of the papers consented to discontinue the columns devoted to covert attacks upon

The Bishop took a hand in the crusade, but there were those who said that his place was in the church. One paper called him to account for his conduct. It was said that the Bishop was inciting members of the orthodox church to arise against those who did not embrace his faith.

Then, it is said, the Bishop called a meeting in a basement in a section of Brooklyn where the less prosperous Syrians live. What happened at the meeting is told in the petition that was sent yesterday to the Police Commissioner. There it is set forth that the Bishop said that he had been attacked and that when he was assailed the honor of those who followed him was likewise assailed. At this meeting, the petition says, the Bishop declared that his morals had been attacked and that, if the abayes were true he was undit to be a priest.

morals had been attacked and that, if the charges were true, he was unfit to be a priest and all the marriages which he had performed were invalid.

It is a Syrian custom, the petition says, when one enlists in a cause, to go before a priest, lay down his weapons and swear that he will devote his life to avenging the

The story goes on to say that half a dozen

The story goes on to say that half a dozen young men, headed by one upon whose head there is a price in Syria, placed their knives in front of the Bishop and took an cath that they would die for him.

That's the version of the disturbed leaders of the colony on this side of the bridge. They worried and worried, and at last, with the help of Charles Le Barbier, former Assistant' District Attorney, a petition asking for police interference was drawn up. N. M. Maloof, an importer, of 17 Broadway, was chairman of the committee signing the petition.

The big sergeant behind the deak of the Church street police station last night smiled at the idea of bloodshed, and said that no extra police had been placed in the Syrian quarter, though the men on post had been told to exercise vigilance.

Bishop Hawaweeny said last night that he had not incited his people to riot. "There is in New York," he continued, "a Turkish society known as Jamist-Al-Akdh. The literal translation of that is 'Champagne Glass Society.' Its members do not like me because I would not indorese certain ideas of theirs, and they attacked me in the columns of a newspaper called Al Hodd. On Wednesday of this week members of my congregation met in the basement of St. Nicholas Church, of which I am in charge, and expressed their indignation at the siurs cast upon me. There was no display of arms and no one vowed to avenge the wrongs that had been done me.

"I am surprised that any one should believe that I would countenance anything unchristian. It is absurd. I am the Bishop of the Orthodox Greek Church in America and my paths do not lead me into politics."

The Bishop was told that several Syrian merchants had declared that they had received threatening letters since the meeting in the Brooklyn church.

"If that is so," said he, "I cannot imagine who wrote them."

COLLINS "VAGS" GAMBLERS. Nabs Eighteen at Floating Poolroom Dock

Including Bud White. CHICAGO, Aug. 26.-Chief of Police Colline's threat that he would "vag" every gambler in the city of Chicago resulted to-day in wholesale arrests of those who patronize the floating poolroom, the City of Traverse. Eighteen gamblers were taken in custody at the dock at the Ninety-second street bridge at South Chicago just as they were about to board the steamer Eagle and the launches which were to carry them to the City of Traverse.

Bud White, manager of the wireless poolroom, which has operated in defiance of the State, county and city authorities, was among the number of the first lot of prisoners who were taken to the South Chicago police station.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 .- Details conerning the new cure for hay fever have been transmitted to the Department of Commerce and Labor by Consul-General Guenther, at Frankfort, Germany. The preparation has been named "pollantine" by its inventor, Prof. W. F. Dunbar, director of the State Hygienic Institute at Ham-up a North Side jewelry store at noon to-day, drove back with revolvers the crowd burg. It is an antitoxin prepared by inoculaof citizens who pursued them and then ting a horse with the toxic pollen of flowers engaged in a running battle with the police. and using the serum obtained from the horse's blood. At first the cure was effected but the others escaped after abandoning by subcutaneous injections, which were used with considerable success for some The store robbed was that of C. W. Jontime, but rendered the patient immune for not longer than one or two weeks. Recently in the course of experiments Prof. Dunbar found that a drop of the serum applied to the inner surface of the nose would cure the inflammation in half an hour, or if applied to the eye would reach the nose through the lachrymal canal. asson, 270 Wells street. Jonasson is in Europe and F. E. Linahl was in charge when the three men drove up to the store in a buggy and entered. In the store at the time were a Western Union employee and a scrubwoman. The robbers asked to see some rings and Linahl placed three trays on the counter before them. Each tray contained a dozen rings. Sudcanal.

The remedy is now used almost entirely in that way, and has proved so efficacious that it has been placed upon the market in Germany. A further improvement is the pulverizing of the remedy, in which form it is not susceptible to bacteriological decomposition. In its powdered form, however, it irritates the mucous membrane and it must be dissolved in sugar of milk when used.

The quantity necessary to carry a patient denly all three men drew revolvers. One covered Linahl, another drove the Western Union man and the scrubwoman into a rear room, while the third grabbed the trays of rings. In his haste the thief dropped one tray, but fled from the store with the two others. His companions backed out after him. out after him.

Passersby saw the robbery and a crowd started after the buggy, which was driven rapidly north in Wells street. Fearing the shouts of their pursuers would cause their arrest, the thieves shot several times at the crowd. The bullets went wild, but they checked the pursuit.

and it must be dissolved in sugar of milk when used.

The quantity necessary to carry a patient through a whole hay fever season was found not to exceed fifty grains. The success of the remedy is shown in the statistics collected by Dr. Luebbert of Leipsig, where out of 505 patients treated 299, or 59.2 per cent., of those who used it were entirely free from attacks during the whole hay fever period. One hundred and forty-three of the patients used the remedy with partial success, while sixty-three received no benefit from its use.

During a series of lectures on hay fever before the Hufeland Society, Prof. Dunbar, discussing the cause of hay fever, showed by his experiments that it was due to pollen. He confirmed the fact that pollen toxin was a tox-albumin. He proved that a single grain of pollen contained enough toxin to produce intense irritation in very sensitive hay fever patients, clearly showing, he declared, that the objection that grains of pollen could not be the cause of hay fever on account of their scarcity in the atmosphere was entirely without foundation.

During hay fever time, that is, during

During hay fever time, that is, during buring hay fever time, that is, during the flowering time of the grasses, immense amounts of efficient pollen had been found in the air. As the result of experiments in that line it had been found that up to four millions could be deposited upon one square meter within twenty-four hours.

Most people are not susceptible to the Most people are not susceptible to the influence of pollen toxin, but for hay fever patients it was an extremely strong acting poison, they being affected by even the most minute quantities. CHINESE ACTOR INSANE.

He Impersonated Women at the Chinatown Theater-He's in Bellevue Now.

Sing Ting, a Chinese actor, was sent to Bellevue Hospital yesterday, and there was a great gloom over the Chinatown theater last night. The doctors say that Sing Ting is incurably insane and that the Chinatown theater will never see him again. A great fondness for opium, they say, is responsible for Sing Ting's downfall.

At the theater he was one of the chief women impersonators. Sing Ting's fellow actors said yesterday that he could recite the lines of 647 acts of the tragedy of the God Sho Nur and the Two Tailed Cow without skipping a line. But when Ting, as the Princess Wu, arrayed in silken robes, sang the maiden's prayer in high pitched tones he is said to have been at his best.

Sing Ting was arraigned in the Tombs police court yesterday. No one could get a word out of him. He stood with downcast eyes and prayerful attitude while Magistrate Finn decided that he needed the attention of the Bellevue doctors. God Sho Nur and the Two Tailed Cow

Indianapolis, Aug. 26.-Mrs Edward Ward, wife of the Sheriff of Warrick county, prevented a jail delivery last night, in the absence of her husband, by standing with a cocked revolver at an opening which the prisoners had made in the wall and threatening to shoot the first man that tried to get through. Sheriff Ward was in a distant part of the county serving some legal papers, and at 10 o'clock Mrs. Ward heard an unusual noise in the jail, which is under the same roof as the Sheriff's resi-

Going back to her room, Mrs. Ward armed herself with a revolver and then passed out of the jail and came around to the side of the building through which the hole had been cut. It was large enough to admit the body of a man, and one of the prisoners stuck his head through just asmirs. Ward reached the place. She presented the pistol within two inches of the man's head and ordered him back into the jail, declaring she would shoot him if he tried to come through.

The man dodged back and tried to parley with the woman, but she refused to hold any conversation, except to repeat her threat to shoot if a head was shoved through the hole in the wall. It was after midnight when Sheriff Ward reached home, and she was still at her post. While she continued to guard the outside he entered the corridor and forced the prisoners into their cells.

WAR BETWEEN RAILROADS. Two Men Fatally Shot-Pennsylvania Holds

the Crossing. RED KEY, Ind., Aug. 26.—The war between the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Muncie and Portland Traction Company, which culminated last night in the fatal wounding of two men and the slight wounding of several others, continued to-day, but the railroad company is holding the crossing, and so far has the advantage of the situation. Each of the rival companies has a large force of men on the ground, and the Sheriff of the county has sworn in fifty deputies in the hope of preserving the peace. The injunction got out by the railroad company is still in operation, but the citizens and the country people are in sympathy with the traction company and are anxious with the traction company and are anxious to make the crossing, regardless of the court's action. It is this threatening condition that causes the local officers to be constantly on the lookout for trouble.
