Jason Little, Principal

Welcome to Douglas R. Welch High School! My name is Jason Little, and I am excited to serve as the D.R. Welch High School Principal.

I have been fortunate enough to spend the past 11 years teaching Social Studies in this program and I am excited to continue to serve this program in a new role. Prior to teaching at IPS, I attended Central Michigan University where I met my wife Ashley, who is a Preschool Special Education teacher in Gratiot County. Together, we have two children who are in elementary school.

I hope to use my experience working in this program to continue to support students to reach their goals. I believe that all students can be successful when families and schools work together to provide support. With this in mind, I encourage you to reach out if ever have any questions or concerns.
