

Regular English II Summer Reading

Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children by Ransom Riggs

You will be reading Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children by Ransom Riggs. That's it! Just read: by the pool, on the beach, in the car, on your patio. Doesn't matter, just read.

However, if you would like, you can annotate quotes that stick out to you, noting the page, and why you found it important to the overall plot of the book.

Here's an example of what this could look like (must be handwritten):

| Quote  | Pagemake sure you pull from various pages throughout the entire novel | Why important  |
|--|--|--|
| "I used to dream about escaping my ordinary life, but my life was never ordinary. I had simply failed to notice how extraordinary it was." |  | Jacob is finding his truth; this also meets the theme of Coming of Age and Self Confidence |

What to expect when you return to school in August:

- A 25 multiple choice comprehension quiz (25 points)
- An in class essay you will choose at random, about elements of fiction, which we will cover the first few days of school (25 points)

Enjoy your summer and enjoy the book. Yes, you can enjoy reading 👍.
