PARENT SURVEY

We need your help to make our school even more amazing! We're excited to invite you to participate in our school survey - your chance to have a say in shaping the future of our academic learning environment. We want to hear about your experiences, ideas, and what you think could make our school even better. Your feedback will guide us in creating positive changes that benefit everyone. Please complete the survey by Friday, June 14, 2024 using the following link: <https://eprovesurveys.advanced.org/surveys/#/action/256759/p58143>. By completing the survey your child will be able to enter a raffle for a prize and gets a free dress day. You will need to provide a pic of the page once you have completed the survey. Please email/send screenshot to jdungey@npfeschools.org

ATTENDANCE MATTERS
All day. Every day.

It adds up...
EVERY tardy
EVERY early check-out
EVERY absence

EVERY MINUTE COUNTS
towards reading on grade level

ONE DAY → ONE WEEK → ONE MONTH → ONE YEAR
15 MINUTES = 1.25 HOURS = 1 DAY = 8 DAYS

ONE DAY → ONE WEEK → ONE MONTH → ONE YEAR
30 MINUTES = 2.5 HOURS = 2 DAYS = 16 DAYS

Every minute counts!

Attendance Still matters until the last day of school!

READING OVER THE SUMMER

Many children, especially struggling readers, forget some of what they've learned or slip out of practice during the summer months. Try these strategies to help your reader improve her reading during the summer and beyond:

Six books to summer success:
 Research shows that reading just six books during the summer may keep a struggling reader from regressing. When choosing the six, be sure that they are just right — not too hard and not too easy.

Take advantage of your local library. Ask for help selecting books that match your child's age, interests, and abilities. Libraries often run summer reading programs that motivate kids to read, so find out what's available in your area.

Also check library book lists for recommendations. Read something every day: Encourage your child to take advantage of every opportunity to read. Find them throughout the day: • Morning: The newspaper — even if it is just the comics or today's weather.

• Daytime: Schedules, TV guides, magazines, online resources, etc. For example, if your daughter likes the food channel, help her look for a recipe on the network's Web site — then cook it together.

- Evening: End the day by having your child read to you from the book he is currently reading (one of the six books, above). Have him rehearse a paragraph, page, or chapter before reading to you. Rereading will help him be more fluent — able to read at an appropriate speed, correctly, and with nice expression. Keep reading aloud: Reading aloud benefits all children and teens, especially those who struggle. One benefit is that you can read books your child can't, so she will build listening comprehension skills with grade-level and above books. This will increase her knowledge and expand her experience with text, so that she will do better when she reads on her own. It's hard to keep up a reading routine in a season packed with distractions and diversions. These suggestions will fit into a busy schedule and make reading fun!

SUMMER IS FOR EXPERIENCES! Take your child out and about in the community! Experience parks, libraries, farmer's markets, festivals, carnivals, museums, community centers, the river front, Campus Martius! Events, do not have to cost money! All of the experiences that students have adds to their background knowledge and their overall student experience! Enjoy time with your child! Find the time and make the time! It will make a difference!
