Permission to Publish on the Web

We are at an exciting time in education. We now have the opportunity to affect a worldwide audience with our learning and knowledge. At the Craig City School District, we are committed to teaching children to use all tools available to help students understand their world.

Teachers are making their own web pages and we hope to have students both help to create school pages and create their own. We are encouraging you to give permission to publish your child's picture, name or schoolwork on the web, on our site and our Facebook page, and in school documents. Items that might be published are student writing, artwork, or photos of completed projects, activities and awards. We want to share the wonderful things happening at the Craig Schools!

Please mark the options we may use in handling your child's photo or name on the web.

Craig City School District may publish the following:
