

SEARCHING TIPS FOR

Use “Quotations” to search for an exact phrase

Ex. “social media”

Quotation marks tell the search engine to only retrieve sources when those 2 or more words appear together in that exact order.

"social media"

There is no space
after the :

Use site: to get results from a specific site

Ex. Site:Newsweek.com

This will only bring results back from the Newsweek website.

site:newsweek.com

Combine the 2 strategies above to search for a specific topic on a specific site.

Ex: site:Newsweek.com “social media”

All of your results will be from Newsweek AND contain the phrase “social media.”

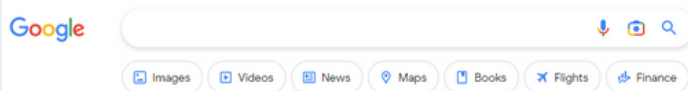

site:newsweek.com "social media"

SEARCHING TIPS FOR

ProQuest

To search for a topic within one specific source use advanced search.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Advanced Search interface. A red arrow points to the 'Basic Search' tab, and a green arrow points to the 'Advanced Search' tab. The search fields contain 'social media' and 'wall street journal'. A yellow arrow points to the 'wall street journal' field with the label 'Title of publication'. A red arrow points to the 'in' dropdown menu, which is set to 'Publication title - PUBLICATION', with the label 'Change to Publication title- PUBLICATION'. The 'AND' operator is selected between the two search terms.

To search for a topic within multiple sources at the same time:
Use the filters on the left side of your search results page.

You can set a date range
for publication dates.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest search results page. On the left, there are filters for 'Publication date' (Last 12 Months, Last 5 Years, Last 10 Years, Custom Date Range), 'Source type' (Scholarly journals, Books, Audio & Video Works, Dissertations & Theses, Newspapers), 'Publication date' (Last 12 Months, Last 5 Years, Last 10 Years, Custom Date Range), 'Subject', 'Document type', 'Language', and 'Publication title'. A blue arrow points to the 'Publication date' filter, and a yellow arrow points to the 'Publication title' filter. A green 'X' is overlaid on the right side of the page. Below the filters, a 'Publication title' dialog box is open, showing a table of publication titles and their counts. The table has columns for 'Include', 'Exclude', 'Publication title', and 'Count'. The table lists various publication titles and their corresponding counts. The 'Include' and 'Exclude' columns have checkboxes. The 'Count' column shows the number of results for each title. The 'Apply' button is at the bottom right of the dialog box.
