prepared & empowered

Mayor Dion and Members of the Portland City Council:

On behalf of the Portland Board of Public Education and in accordance with the City Charter, I – along with Superintendent Ryan Scallon – are presenting our recommended fiscal year 2025 budget for the Portland Public Schools.

The Board was united in approving this $161.4 million FY25 budget on April 9. We feel strongly that this budget is a fair and responsible one in a time of unique fiscal challenges. The budget is grounded in equity, centers students, supports staff, provides additional resources to schools and is aligned to our emerging strategic plan, while being cognizant of Portland taxpayers.

The budget process this year has been incredibly hard because the district faces increased expenses, relatively flat state funding and the end of COVID funding in FY25. This budget includes sizable reductions to address those fiscal challenges. While necessary, those cuts are painful, and we will feel the impact of each one of them.

The theme of our budget is “Centering Students,” and that has guided us in identifying not just reductions but also opportunities for strategic investments in developing this budget. This budget includes funding for increased student mental health, reading support, special education and school culture support at the school level. In addition, this budget supports increased rigor in the classroom, and maintains funding for athletics, extracurriculars, and class sizes.

This budget does all that while being cognizant of the tax burden on Portland residents. The loss of about $9.4 million in federal COVID relief funds and other revenues, relatively flat state funding and increasing expenses meant that the district began the budget process with an estimated $19.4 million shortfall. Without any cuts, that shortfall would have necessitated a 17.41% increase in the school portion of the tax rate.

Instead – due to strategic reductions and restructuring – the budget we present to you tonight calls for an increase of 6.6% ($0.49) in the school tax rate. For the owner of a $375,000 median-priced home in Portland, this would result in an increase in taxes of $183.75 per year or just over $15 per month. Previous versions of our FY25 school budget were expected to result in a 6.85% increase in the school tax rate, but city property valuations that were revised as of April 1 brought that figure down to 6.6%.

It truly has been a community effort to get this budget to land where it is now. Since March 5, when the superintendent presented his proposed FY25 budget, members of the community, PPS staff, the Board and Council finance committees, as well as the mayor and other councilors, have all engaged to help us revise and enhance the FY25 budget. The Board has listened carefully as we worked to understand and evaluate budget priorities and develop a budget that is as responsive as possible to the needs of our students, staff and families, while also keeping in mind the concerns of taxpayers.

Our budget is the result of months of work and the process has been very thorough.

The budget process began back in July, when Superintendent Scallon joined the district and commenced a months-long listening and learning process involving all members of the community to develop a new five-year strategic plan. The goal is to align the FY25 and future budgets with that emerging plan.

Based on priorities identified in the strategic plan, five principles guided the reductions and restructuring in the budget:

- Aligning budget priorities to the emerging strategic plan
- Making budget cuts that minimize the impact on students
- Identifying opportunities for strategic investments and not just reductions
- Reviewing all expenses and not just expenses currently paid for by COVID Funds
- Making progress in building a sustainable organizational structure

Those principles ensured reductions in the budget were made as far away from students as possible. The principles also led to not just cuts but also to including strategic investments that enhance student mental health and learning and increasing enrichment classes – art, music, gym, library, environmental literacy and foreign language – at the elementary level.

On March 5, the superintendent presented a recommended budget of $161 million. After extensive review, the Board's Finance Committee voted on April 1 to increase that overall budget proposal by just over 600,000 to add 17 staff positions to the budget. The Finance Committee's Recommended budget did not add to the tax rate increase in the superintendent's budget because the Committee offset those increases by including:

- $300,000 in MaineCare revenue. A revenue stream that was not previously included in the FY25 budget.

- A $322,602 reduction in budgeted PFML (parental and family medical leave) expenses to reflect our current bargaining agreements that will delay the district's need to budget PFML costs until FY26 for some employees.
- A reduction of $559,283 in budgeted benefits as the district continued to receive additional information about lower benefits costs for FY25 than initially budgeted.
- An additional $313,071 in the use of the fund balance reserves for FY25.

On April 9, the Board also voted to add in another position – that of middle school math coach – and to incorporate into the budget an additional $326,035 in health insurance savings, based on the district's final notification from its insurer regarding the cost of employee health insurance benefits in FY25. After covering the cost of the math coach with those funds, the Board directed the remainder to be used to reduce the use of the fund balance in the Finance Committee's budget down from $3,813,071 to $3,582,780.

This year, for the first time, the school budget was presented in a more comprehensive manner, with all revenues and expenses presented, not just those in the local budget. Compared to the total overall FY24 budget of approximately $163.1 million, the FY25 budget is $161.4 million, a reduction of about $1.7 million. The FY24 budget consists of a local budget of $144 million and $19 million in non-local funds. The FY25 budget consists of $154 million in the local part of the budget, with $7 million in other funds.

This also is a zero-based budget. The District did not roll forward its previous budget. Instead, we started with zero and built a new budget, looking at both staff and non-personnel and ensuring that they align to the strategic plan.

Below are some specific highlights at the district-wide and elementary, middle and high-school levels of the Board's recommended budget:

District-wide:

- Maintains or increases mental health staff
- Maintains staffing for multilingual learners
- Budgets all schools to have a Special Education Coordinator
- Increases the number of schools with proactive school climate staff
- Maintains class size guidance
- Establishes Network Support Teams specializing in, and dedicated to, outcomes at elementary schools or middle/high schools
- Maintains Central Office capacity for Tech Integration and Outdoor Learning Fieldwork

Elementary:

- Staffs all schools to have five specials (e.g. art, music, gym, library, environmental literacy, foreign language) per week

- Provides all teachers with five preparation periods per week - currently it is as low as three preparation periods a week in some schools.
- Increases intervention staff - training and materials
- Increases teachers and education technicians at Title I schools

Middle Schools:

- Maintains students having access to art, music, foreign language & STEM and extracurricular funding
- Increases reading and math intervention staff - training and materials
- Offers algebra at each middle school
- Maintains Make It Happen at the middle school level despite it previously being grant funded

High Schools:

- Maintains funding for athletics & extracurriculars
- Funds High School of the Future staff member and external support
- Maintains Extended Learning Opportunities at Portland and Deering high schools
- Maintain transitional capacity for students with IEPs and Multilingual Learners

To address the fiscal challenges of FY25, and to center students and invest in schools, the recommended budget includes a variety of savings and adjustments. Highlights include:

- Central Office: Restructured for effectiveness and efficiency, with a cut of 20 positions and initial cost savings estimated at more than $2.6 million.
- Special Education: To provide additional capacity at the school level, reducing the number of special education staff at Central Office by 12 FTE (FY24 21 FTE).
- Transportation: Increasing budgeted staffing in transportation to reduce the District's reliance on contracted bus companies. The department will also not purchase new buses in FY25. The budgeted estimated savings are $919,000.
- Facilities: The Facilities department is budgeted to reduce the overall number of custodians by 9 FTE and move a small number of staff to a Tuesday - Saturday schedule. Note that this reduction will be done through not filling current vacancies. This produces budgeted savings of $570,000.
- School Staffing: Overall staffing at the school level remains relatively flat from FY24 to FY25, but there are a few targeted reductions, with savings from those re-invested in schools in other staffing additions.
- Stipends and Differentials: The district continues to work with union partners to both emphasize staff/teacher leadership and lower the overall expenses of stipends. The budgeted expenses for stipends/differential goes from $2.1 million in FY24 to $1.6 million in FY25.
- Fund Balance: To offset financial challenges, the budget proposes using $3.58 million in fund balance, a slight reduction from the amount of fund balance used in FY24.

In summary, our Board budget is a balanced and reasonable one. It is fiscally prudent, containing reductions and restructuring but also investments that will enhance teaching and learning while being heedful of taxpayers.

We ask you to join us in supporting this budget and send it to Portland voters for final approval on June 11. The community has repeatedly demonstrated at the polls that they believe in the importance of a quality public education for Portland students so they are empowered to succeed in college and career. This budget reflects those values and we encourage you to approve it. Thank you.

Respectfully submitted,

Sarah Lentz, Chair
