Message from the Superintendent

Dr. Michael V. Ginestre

Too often, we believe school districts are slow to change and adjust to a rapidly evolving landscape. While we never want to experience a pandemic again, there are lessons to be learned from that time. One critical lesson is that school districts can change at a moment's notice and deliver instruction and support by any means necessary to meet the needs of our students. As we continue to witness changes in technology, engineering, workforce development, and how we learn, the Sweet Home Central School district is strengthening its efforts to adapt and adjust to change. Hence, our students are best prepared to live and thrive in our society.

For us, it starts with the Sweet Home Central School District Strategic Plan. This plan will be our guidebook for ensuring that Sweet Home is strong and well-positioned to prepare our students for a future where their career most likely doesn't even exist. Everyone in our community had a chance to participate, and thousands have, to build a plan specifically tailored to Sweet Home but designed to future-proof our students for the challenges ahead once they become alumni. Using the Thought Exchange platform, the district collected feedback from all stakeholder groups on the following questions: "What are the most important skills and experiences we can provide our Sweet Home students to prepare them for success in learning and life? What are we doing well, and what can we do differently?" The district is so grateful to our community for their response. Through the use of Thought Exchange, there were 1,308 participants, 1,034 thoughts, and 29,308 ratings, one of the best responses shared by partners in this work with Erie 1 BOCES. From the Thought Exchange data, three categories arose as critically important to the Sweet Home community: teaching & learning, future-focused and whole child.

These three categories were used to develop goals for elementary (Pre-K to grade 5) and secondary (grade 6 to 12).

The Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Subcommittee on Teaching and Learning, was composed of a team of students, parents, teachers, administrators, and a school board member. The DEI Subcommittee on Teaching and Learning developed the portrait of a Sweet Home graduate (outlined on page 10), during which the characteristics and dispositions were identified. The portrait of a Sweet Home graduate remained the center of the work as the committee unpacked data on district demographics, course offerings, activities such as sports and clubs, career and technical education, participation, and performance after graduation at the college level.

We work extremely hard to meet our mission as a district, and we are highly confident that our living and breathing Strategic Plan will be our guidebook to prepare our students for an ever-evolving, rapidly-changing landscape. "Every Student, One Community, Ready for the Future" will continue to be our measuring stick for success with our Strategic Plan and with all district initiatives.
Sincerely,

Dr. Michael V. Ginestre
Superintendent of Schools

Diversity, Equity & Inclusion (DEI) Alignment

Sweet Home launched a District DEI Committee in January 2022. The DEI Committee developed a Mission & Vision for DEI to further support the overall district mission of "Every student, one community, ready for the future." The Sweet Home Board of Education fully supported the DEI initiative.

In 2023, the committee set forth a plan to expand and continue to bring to life the New York State call to action in implementing the Board of Regents Framework on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion through the work of sub-committees.

Diversity, Equity & Inclusion (DEI) Alignment

The sub-committees would continue to amplify DEI in Sweet Home in the areas of teaching & learning, family & community engagement, workforce diversity, diverse schools & learning opportunities, and student support, discipline, & wellness. There are over 43 different languages spoken in our district; with each language comes different cultures, customs & beliefs. We are proud of our diverse community, and we recognize, now more than ever, the need to foster a sense of belonging. To continue fostering a truly inclusive community, the teaching & learning sub-committee was tasked with creating the 2023-2026 Strategic Plan, emphasizing aligning the work through a DEI lens.

STRATEGIC PLAN STRUCTURE

SWEET HOME - DIVERSITY, EQUITY & INCLUSION
Cultivating a community where all members experience a sense of belonging.

- WORKFORCE DIVERSITY
- FAMILY & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT
- TEACHING & LEARNING
- DIVERSE SCHOOLS & LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES
- STUDENT SUPPORTS, DISCIPLINE & WELLNESS

Fostering an equitable environment that is culturally responsive, inclusive of all voices, and dedicated to lifelong learning.

Research Driven Strategies

The work of the Strategic Plan is supported by the Public Education Leadership Project (PELP) at Harvard University's Coherence Framework (2007). The Coherence Framework can be used to diagnose performance gaps or incoherences through the use of its key components. The framework assists with achieving coherence by: 1) Connecting the instructional core with a district-wide strategy for improvement 2) Highlighting district elements that can support or hinder effective implementation 3) Identifying interdependencies among district elements 4) Recognizing forces in the environment that have an impact on the implementation of strategy.

At the center of the framework is the instructional core, which represents the critical work of teaching and learning that goes on in classrooms. Surrounding the instructional core is the theory of change. The theory of change, the organization's collective belief about the relationships between certain actions and desired outcomes, is often phrased as an "if... then..." statement or series of such statements. This theory provides the link between the mission of increased performance for all students and the strategy the organization will use to achieve that goal. Strategy, which surrounds the theory of change in the framework, is the set of actions a district deliberately undertakes to strengthen the instructional core and raise student performance district-wide. The framework includes five organizational elements critical to the successful implementation of a district-wide improvement strategy: culture, structures, systems, resources, and stakeholders. The effectiveness of each of these elements is directly influenced by the actions of district leadership. The outermost layer of the framework represents the environment in which districts operate and includes regulations and statutes, contracts, funding, and politics. These factors are primarily outside of the direct control of district leaders, but have the potential to greatly influence district strategy and operations.

The Sweet Home Theory of Change

If Sweet Home supports all students in feeling a sense of belonging through the lens of DEI, focused on...

High quality teaching and learning and...
Future focused opportunities and structures and...
Supporting the whole child...

Then, every student will graduate with the feeling of belonging to one community, and ready for the future.

Using the 8 Habits

Sweet Home is deeply dedicated to engaging in the work of the strategic plan by fostering leadership throughout the entire community. Stephen R. Covey's 7 Habits of Highly Effective People (Covey, 2004) and the 8th Habit (Covey, 2005) remains deeply rooted in our professional development plans and provides a structure we engage in to shape our results.

We work to build an inclusive, positive culture that supports all in realizing their talents and strengths through the use of the Leader in Me comprehensive program that supports the 7 Habits of Happy Kids and through the teachings of the 7 Habits of Highly Effective People. We will continue reinforcing and celebrating our students and staff's positive talents and gifts using the 8 Habits.
