Dear Mrs. Brown,

As an early childhood specialist, I've always dreamed towards inspiring kids and making them feel confident in themselves. Martin Weiss is a safe haven for kids to feel their true authentic selves and to be able to grow in their learning abilities. A reason I chose to work here was because of the support and the amount of trust that was offered in helping me teach Pre-K. In my 2 years working at Martin Weiss, I gained staff development opportunities such as Leader In Me and Project Base Learning, which sharpened my skills to unleash my students' fullest potential. Not only does the school focus on the students, they also support the teachers and believe in what we are doing. They invest in us to go to conferences and take opportunities to better our craft. No goal is too big for Martin Weiss, we always aim high, and there's always action being put into our mission. I really value working here, and I feel like it's a great environment to foster teacher's of the future.

Sincerely,

Lupe Farahani
