6. Community / Staff Recognition

6.1 Recognition of International Staff

Deputy Superintendent Wendy Kelly addressed the School Board and audience to recognize the 62 international staff members who moved from other countries and filled some of the most hard-to-fill positions in the district. These educators have traveled great distances to work with the district's students, making a significant transition to settle in Redwood City. Their dedication highlights the effort to support and enhance the educational experience in the district.

Superintendent Baker recounted his first meeting with the international staff, during which he shared his experience of living in Asia during his middle school years. He described the significant adjustment this entailed. Superintendent Baker expressed gratitude for the international staff's journey to a new country and their dedicated work. He thanked them for their courage to travel and experience a different way of living. Superintendent Baker extended his gratitude to Ann Berljafa, Catherine James, and Sarah Cullum for their hospitality and for ensuring the international staff were well taken care of. He also thanked the SPED team for their support of the international staff.

Vice President Wells echoed the previous sentiments. Vice President Wells expressed his appreciation to the international staff for their dedicated work.

Trustee MacAvoy emphasized the district's commitment to cultural awareness. She expressed appreciation for the opportunity to have the international staff work for the district.

Public Comment:

Regis Mvenge, an international Instructional Assistant, addressed the School Board to state that in Zimbabwe it is customary to say goodbye when leaving. Mr. Mvenge expressed gratitude for the warm welcome he and his colleagues received. Moreover, he also appreciated the experience and praised his colleagues for their hard work.

The School Board recessed the board meeting at 7:17 p.m. for the staff recognition and reconvened at 7:27 p.m.

7. School/Community Reports

7.1 Connect Community Charter School Presentation for the 2023-2024 School Year

Hayley Dupuy, Principal of Connect Community Charter School ("Connect"), along with teachers Amanda Vaughn, Dominique Berritto, and Adam Center, addressed the School Board. They showcased how Connect is addressing academics, enrichment, mental health, and social and emotional learning (SEL), highlighting student voices and school events.

Trustee MacAvoy thanked Ms. Dupuy for presenting to the school board and praised her efforts to organize field trips for the students. Additionally, Trustee MacAvoy expressed interest in seeing academic data presented in the future from Connect.

Trustee Weekly thanked the Connect Community Charter School team. Trustee Weekly emphasized the goal of serving Redwood City students by comparing and evaluating different approaches to determine the most effective methods. Additionally, Trustee Weekly expressed interest in using a data-driven approach to understand the charter school's differences and identify what is working. Moreover, Trustee Weekly asked Ms. Berritto to elaborate on the differences between teaching in high school and middle school and Ms. Berritto answered. Lastly, he expressed interest in understanding the perceived differences in approach between the district and the charter school, seeking advice on how the district can improve based on these findings, and conversely, how the district can support Connect.

Trustee Márquez praised the Connect Community Charter School team for the presentation and their dedicated work with the students. Trustee Márquez noted that the district has a Director of Student Services to handle student and teacher issues and inquired about who is responsible for these tasks at the charter school level and Ms. Dupuy answered.

Vice President Wells, President Lawson, and Superintendent Baker praised the Connect Community Charter School team for the presentation and their dedicated work.

10.4 Recommendation re: Approval of the School Plans for Student Achievement

Trustee Weekly expressed frustration regarding the lack of substantive discussion on the extensive data presented, emphasizing the importance of rigorously discussing student achievement. Trustee Weekly emphasized the need to discuss the data for each school, evaluate current actions, and consider further steps to improve outcomes. He urged the board to allocate time and agenda space for such discussions in the future.

Superintendent Baker proposed a solution to address time constraints in reviewing the SPSA reports, suggesting that upon returning in the fall, they begin each meeting with reports and deep discussions with principals.

Trustee MacAvoy commended aligning the school site plans with LCAP goals, noting improvements over time. Trustee MacAvoy suggested hearing mid-year updates from school staff regarding plan implementation and outcomes to gain insight into what's working and what's not. She emphasized the importance of understanding how plans are executed at the school level, suggesting attendance at site council meetings for deeper dives into data and need assessment, acknowledging that while the board may not dig as deeply during meetings, such discussions occur at the school level. Trustee MacAvoy praised the principals for their hard work gathering data to compose the reports.

Vice President Wells acknowledged the effort put into the detailed school site plans, praising their alignment with district LCAP goals. He expressed excitement for the implementation of Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) and highlighted the importance of diagnostic assessments for monitoring student progress. Wells raised concerns about potential overemphasis on diagnostic testing and emphasized the need to balance data collection with student enrichment activities.

President Lawson reflected on her experience serving on a school site council and acknowledged all the extensive effort that goes into developing the SPSA plans together. She praised the principals and all individuals involved in developing the documents.

Superintendent Baker inquired about current reporting legislation and Trustee MacAvoy and Assistant Superintendent Anna Herrera provided insights.

Superintendent Baker expressed his concern regarding over-testing the students and is collaborating with the Gardner Center for possible solutions.
