SENIOR SALUTES!

Whether they're designing skyscrapers, serving up delicious meals, or creating buzz-worthy marketing campaigns, creativity reigns supreme for these Maricopa High School seniors!

Aithygian Harry is rendering his blueprint for success at Central Arizona Community College, where he will major in Architecture and Design. Armed with his Pinal Promise Scholarship, Aithygian is laying the groundwork to design the future as an architect.

Eligio Gonzalez-Reyes will be serving up smiles at Northern Arizona University, majoring in Hospitality & Business Management. Lumberjack Scholarship in hand, Eligio is using the skills and self-discipline he developed in AFJROTC to become an Entrepreneur Restaurant Owner. Watch out Gordon Ramsay!

Jerilyn T. Lee is heading to Arizona State University, where she will major in Marketing/Interior Design. With an impressive lineup of scholarships - Provost's Scholarship, New American Scholarship, and the Child of a Deaf Adult Scholarship - Jerilyn is ready to spark inspiration as a future designer.

With Aithygian, Eligio, and Jerilyn leading the way, we are destined for a future of taste and style!

Sincerely,

Dr. Tracey Lopeman, Superintendent
Maricopa Unified School District
