

Odyssey Grades 2-5 Supply List 2024-2025

Dear Parents,

To help you with supply shopping for next year, we want to help you choose supplies that fit your child’s organizational style. Please read the chart below with your child and see which style seems to fit them best. Then, purchase the supplies that go with that style. We hope that tailoring the supply list to more accurately meet the needs of your child will help them to be more successful! We’ll also share some suggestions with you about systems that can help your student bring work home, get it done, and return it again; about study skills; and about helpful morning and nighttime routines. We’re basing our suggestions off of a book we read together called Organizing the Disorganized Child by Martin L. Kutscher and Marcella Moran. We hope it helps!

Visual Learners Sees activities.	hi Spatial Learners Sees spaces.	Chronological &amp; Sequential Learners Counts days.
See things where they’ve been placed.	Find things based on where they’ve been placed.	Find things based on WHEN they used them.
Items should be visible.	Need supplies within reach.	Access information in order.
Color-coding	Work area needs to be empty.	Think with numbers.
Pictures of supplies needed.	“Feels Good” is most important	Dates / time / order help organize
Visual mess is an overload.	Dance, Music, Drama	Stack things in sequential order.
	Sensitive to feelings	Repeat to remember stuff.
	Mess is an overload.
