High Performance Learning

www.highperformancelearning.co.uk | getintouch@highperformancelearning.co.uk

High Performance Learning (HPL) is a mission-driven organisation, working with schools and teachers to change the face of education and deliver student high performance for the many - whatever their background - not the few. HPL is a global movement for change, for any school (we work with state, independent schools and multi-academy trusts), any age, in any country. It operates in conjunction with any subject or curriculum to uplift learner performance. What our schools have in common is that they put teaching and learning at their heart. They are committed to moving beyond the 'bell curve' and accepting that everyone is a potential high performer - aiming for less is no longer acceptable. HPL helps schools to adopt the HPL by providing a flexible teaching and learning framework for systematically building the cognitive competencies that lead to academic and lifetime success. Each school is a unique context and so schools must customise the HPL framework and implement the principles learnt throughout, so that the HPL framework become part of a school's DNA – an underpinning philosophy and common language for teaching and learning that drives the work of the school and brings coherence to the modern culture of targets, initiatives and programmes. High Performance Learning is a proven, research-based, pedagogy-led approach, which relies on teachers and their professional capital to help self-improving schools make the gear change to become world class. Its impact on the school is dramatic and sustained.

www.lexonik.co.uk | phil.luke@lexonik.co.uk

Lexonik is an award-winning company based in the North East of England, working with teachers globally to raise attainment through transformational literacy programmes, teacher training and whole school vocabulary teaching to supercharge literacy skills.

Lexonik's intervention programmes teach students a methodology which allows them to decode and deconstruct meaning from language independently, leveraging metacognition and repetition to lead to reading and comprehension automaticity. Integral to our approach is teacher training and a whole school vocabulary solution which lessens teacher variability and ensures students can connect intervention learning to the classroom.

Lexonik's flagship intervention programme rapidly improves reading, spelling, vocabulary and comprehension, with average reading age gains of +27 months in just six one-hour sessions. Additionally, Lexonik Leap, effectively resolves phonics gaps for all learners at any age, including those for whom English is not their first language.

Mind Your Health

www.mindyourhealthltd.com | george@mindyourhealthltd.com

Created by a team of educators and counsellors, Mind Your Health is a company focused on providing CPD services to educational systems. Our programmes include mental health first aid, suicide first aid and safeguarding - all of which is internationally approved with the option of international accreditation.

As of January 2023, we will also be offering a CPD-accredited workshop for staff on Eating Disorders. However, we also provide workshops and training for the children and young people within the school, as well as providing talks and workshops for parents. Our training has resulted in over 3000 children already being trained, with all receiving CPD accreditation!

What does separate us from most CPD providers is the support we give to international school settings. The majority of our collaborations with those in the international sector ranging from Cranleigh Abu Dhabi to Kellett School Hong Kong and the Wellington schools in China.

Outside of these 'shorter' CPDs, we are also the only provider in the world to offer the initial courses in Counselling & Coaching skills via Zoom. These courses are internationally approved, accredited and are the starting levels for those who wish to become fully accredited Counsellors or Life Coaches.

Beyond CPDs, we also run a team of counsellors who give regular support to teaching staff in the international sector.

NITE - National Institute of Teaching and Education

www.coventry.ac.uk/nite | LinkedIn

Thriving countries have flourishing education systems, in which the profile of teaching is high, as is the expected rigour within their teacher education programmes.

As such, NITE, part of the Coventry University Group, has a moral purpose to contribute to a global education mission, and we see our role within it as setting the standard in teacher training and educational leadership development across the world.

Our programmes:

- have practical intentions to improve the quality of teaching and leadership in schools and colleges globally;
- are underpinned by the best available evidence of 'what works';
- are designed and delivered by experienced, specialist educators, who also know what it takes to successfully teach and lead in schools today;
- are competitively priced

The distinct features, which thread through all our courses, promote accessibility and personalised programmes of study. These include:

- Online delivery models, which blend with school-based practice;
- Tutorial and mentoring programmes to support learning, deepen students' understanding and prompt independent study and research;
- The flexibility of multiple in-year start dates and part-time routes.

Real Training

www.realtraining.co.uk | amanda.woolf@realgroup.co.uk

Real Training (a part of Real Group) provides award-winning continuing professional development and specialist training to thousands of education professionals in the UK and internationally each year. Almost all of our high-quality courses can be completed online through our proprietary platform Campus Online, affording our delegates unrivalled levels of flexibility to fit around their busy lives. Delegates are able to work at their own pace, with the full support of tutors at all times. There are also opportunities to learn face-to-face (both virtual and in person) and bespoke courses which can be delivered anywhere in the world.

We work very closely with BSME as their chosen training partner for courses in supporting students with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND). Over the years, we have worked with a large number of BSME school members, whose staff have completed a wide range of our courses. Particularly popular is our international SENCO qualification which is part of our larger MEd SEND Programme. This programme uses a practice-led learning model to encourage longer-term learning and help educators implement effective strategies to make a difference in the school straight away. Also very popular are our courses that provide the skills and knowledge required to undertake psychometric testing and access arrangements in schools.

We have been honoured to receive industry recognition for our work in Special Educational Needs (SEN). In 2021 we won the Exporter of the year at the ERA Awards, with our SEND programme placing as a finalist at the BETT awards for Special Educational Needs Solutions.

Our courses are respected, accredited and supportively delivered. Our expert tutors are fully qualified and experienced professionals. We value diversity and inclusion and we like to work in partnership with organisations and with schools, universities, charities, government and competitors.

T4 Education

t4.education | mike@t4.education

We believe every child, everywhere, deserves a good education. And that starts with strong schools that attract and retain the best teachers because they have a great school culture. But what we learned from building a community of over 200,000 teachers and school leaders from around the world is that this isn't easy for schools to get right.

That's why we launched Best School to Work. An independent, evidence-based mechanism to certify schools for their working environment, Best School to Work is the gold standard of school culture. Membership comes with detailed feedback, actionable insights, and benchmarking data to help schools create environments where education flourishes because educators thrive.

We are here to support teachers. From our T4 Communities app – allowing teachers to network, collaborate, share good practices, and continue their professional development – to our events, research, resources and prizes, everything we do helps teachers transform education.

Our World's Best School Prizes have grown to become the world's most prestigious education awards, celebrating the stories of trailblazing schools so others can learn from their innovative solutions while giving them a seat at the top table.

We work to amplify teachers' voices because the world we want to see will only be built by listening to those at the heart of education.

The Alliance for Sustainable Schools

www.tass-asia.org | LinkedIn

The Alliance for Sustainable Schools (TASS) is a non-profit membership organisation – an international network of schools working together to help accelerate the transition to a sustainable future. TASS members share a commitment to the principles of the Sustainable Schools Charter.

As a community of practice, The Alliance connects sustainability practitioners in schools around the world, sharing their learning and amplifying their impact. As an agent of change, TASS harnesses its collective influence and partners with innovative organisations to catalyse systems-level change in the currently unsustainable systems that supply school uniforms, school food, school buses and school buildings.

TASS also advocates for education for sustainability. This is done through pilot projects in collaboration with TASS member schools and strategic partners to demonstrate the feasibility of sustainable alternatives. TASS then utilises its network structure to scale up these replicable pilot projects to other schools around the world.

Support-Edu

www.support-edu.com | john@support-edu.com

Support-Edu is a global leadership consultancy that predominantly supports aspiring, new and developing leaders in schools. We do this by providing bespoke leadership training, based on the individual needs of those we work with. We offer single modules, half day and full day seminars and extended courses which can be delivered in person, online or a hybrid of the two. This can also include coaching and help with strategic planning.

Over recent years we have trained a global cohort in excess of 150 middle and senior leaders, of which over 50% have been promoted into more senior roles, including headships. We have worked with a range of different schools across the world, from day and boarding schools in the UK, to bilingual schools in the Middle East, to start up international schools in the Far East. These organisations are on different paths and we created training to help them shape their future. These schools have found that investment in leadership training has led to increased staff wellbeing as staff felt valued; improved staff retention and succession planning and taken pressure of the senior team.

The heart of what we do, however, is always the same, to help people find strength in solutions.

The University of Buckingham, Faculty of Education

www.buckingham.ac.uk/study-education | education@buckingham.ac.uk

The University of Buckingham's teacher training courses are amongst the most established and successful in the country.

Back in 2002 Professor Sir Chris Woodhead and Professor Anthony O'Hear led the first teacher training course to be offered at The University of Buckingham. There were just 12 teachers. Now, with over 1,300 teachers and school leaders studying with us, we have become one of the country's leading providers of teacher training and professional development.

Our primary aim in all of our courses is to improve teaching and leadership in schools. The frameworks and assessments for each course weave into your day-to-day school lives so that study and practice are relevant to your role and aspirations.

We offer two courses specifically designed for teachers in international schools: the International Qualified Teacher Status (iQTS) and the PGCE for International Trainees. These qualifications are available online with regular virtual seminars and support sessions throughout.

All of our master's courses are available completely online and are a fantastic way to develop your expertise in a particular aspect of the sphere of Education. Whether your interest is in leadership and management, or something else entirely, we can support your career progression and aspirations.

Best Practice Network

www.bestpracticenet.co.uk | michellebrew@bestpracticenet.co.uk

Accredited by the UK Department for Education (DfE), Outstanding Leaders Partnership, supported by Best Practice Network, is the leading provider of the National Professional Qualifications (NPQs) globally. Our NPQ provision has expanded rapidly across the international schools community with leaders and their schools choosing professional qualification as a driver for improvement and a mark of quality for their workforce.

The Outstanding Leaders Partnership is an international, school-led partnership recently rated as 'exceptional' by the DfE Quality Assurance Agent.

The quality review was based on the DfE National Professional Qualification (NPQ) Quality Framework. The reviewers examined leadership and governance, face-to-face delivery, online courses, candidate, facilitator and tutor support, assessment, organisation, quality control, marketing and recruitment, as well as the DfE metrics and impact. The reviewers identified exceptional performance in most areas of the Quality Framework.

Vamos Language Teaching Ltd

www.vamosforschools.co.uk | russell.collins@vamoslanguageteaching.co.uk

Thanks to online teaching we have been able to fulfil a long-term ambition in secondary education. Today we have a high-quality, cost-effective solution for schools who are not teaching Spanish, which offers unique support for schools who do.

Our framework of vibrant and engaging courses for KS2, KS3, GCSE and A level include courses to boost grades, communicative skills and exam preparation, and each follows the school curriculum, term by term. But it's the combination of our pedagogy and our technology that makes this so effective.

How we manage homework and make it fun. How we engage with parents and how we report back to schools.

The combination of our experienced, native teachers, high-quality course content and innovative technology, makes Vamos uniquely placed to support your school.
