Get the Most from Parent/Teacher Conferences

When parents and teachers work together, they make an unbeatable team. And parent conferences can help build the teamwork that helps kids learn better.

1. Think about what you want to learn in the conferences. Prepare some questions. For example:
   * How is my child doing in class?
   * Does my child use time well? Does he have good work habits?
   * Does my child usually turn in home work? Does he/she have missed assignments?
   * What can I do at home to support what you are doing?
2. Talk with your child. Ask what she thinks the teacher will say. Ask if he/she has any concerns. And talk about likes, dislikes, problems, and successes.
3. Ask the teacher to explain anything you do not understand. Special programs for children are sometimes referred to by their initials.
4. Be prepared to talk and listen. Tell the teacher what you see at home. Talk about your child's interests. Tactfully talk about any concerns. And be sure to let the teacher know about anything that might affect your child's learning.
5. Follow up. Stay in touch with the teacher. If you think of a question, write a note.

NEW SUICIDE PREVENTION PROGRAM AT EAST!

Through the help of grant funding, our Suicide Awareness & Student Support (SASS) Club student leaders and adult advisors were just trained by national trainers from the Sources of Strength Program. Due to the success of last year's activities, SASS has doubled in size this year!

Sources of Strength is a universal suicide prevention program designed to both build protective influences around youth and to reduce the likelihood that vulnerable youth will become suicidal. Through a series of campaigns throughout the next few school years, SASS will help both staff and students recognize and build up their Sources of Strength in each of the 8 areas of the wheel pictured above.

If you have any questions about Sources of Strength, or if you are concerned about your student's mental health, please contact your child's social worker at (920) 448-2092.

Notes from the School Nurses

A Nurse's Guide for When to Stay Home From School

Fever is the body's way of destroying the germs making it sick, and it's a common symptom of infections. Keep your children home if their temperature is 100° F or higher. Wait until children are fever-free without a fever reducing medication before letting them return to school.

Diarrhea is often the result of infection, food poisoning, or a side effect to medications like antibiotics. If your child is not having pain, not having diarrhea frequently (2 or more in 24 hours) and can make it to the bathroom and wash hands well after using the bathroom they can come to school.

Vomiting is another way for the body to rid itself of the germs making it sick, and is usually caused by a stomach virus or stomach infection. Keep children home if they've vomited twice or more in the last 24 hours. They can return to school when they are symptom free and tolerating fluids.

Sore throat can be a symptom of strep or a common cold. If your child has been diagnosed with strep throat, keep your child at home for at least 2 doses of antibiotics or 12 hours after starting antibiotics. If your child has a mild cold, sore throat with no fever it is okay to go to school.

Pinkeye (conjunctivitis) The American Academy of Pediatrics no longer recommends staying home from school for pinkeye unless a child is not able to avoid touching their eye, has a fever over 100'F or the doctor recommends they stay home.

Rashes generally are okay to attend school. You can call the school nurse to assess if you are concerned. If there is a fever with the rash keep your child home.

- Scabies they may return to school once the treatment is completed. They will still have itching and rash for several weeks.
- MRSA infections they may return as long as on treatment from a doctor and any drainage from a wound can be covered.
- Ringworm they can attend school. Should keep area covered by clothing or bandage.
- Chicken Pox they must stay home until all pox are scabbed over.
- Impetigo they must stay home until lesions are treated with antibiotics for at least 24 hours or lesions are crusted over.
- Hand Foot and Mouth they can attend school unless a fever is present or child is unable to maintain good hygiene or consistently drooling

Lice we do not exclude from school, once identified, we notify the parent and the expectation is that they be combed out, treated and return to school the next day.

Earaches are not contagious. There's no need to keep a child with a mild earache home.

Mild cold or respiratory symptoms are no reason to keep children at home. A persistent productive cough may be a sign of contagious conditions such as whooping cough, viral bronchitis, pneumonia, influenza or croup and may need medical evaluation.

Notas de las Enfermeras Escolares

Una guía de la enfermera para cuándo quedarse en casa en vez de ir a la escuela

La Fiebre es la forma del cuerpo de destruir los microbios y bacterias que lo enferman, y es un síntoma común de infecciones. Mantenga a sus hijos en casa si su temperatura es de 100º F o más. Espere hasta que los niños ya no tengan fiebre sin tener que darles medicamento para reducir la fiebre para mandarlos a la escuela.

La diarrea es a menudo el resultado de una infección, una intoxicación alimentaria o un efecto secundario en medicamentos como los antibióticos. Si su hijo/a no está teniendo dolor, ni tiene diarrea con frecuencia (2 episodios o más en 24 horas) y puede llegar al baño y lavarse bien después de usar el baño pueden venir a la escuela.

El vómito es otra forma de que el cuerpo se libera de los gérmenes que lo enferman, y por lo general es causado por un virus del estómago o una infección estomacal. Mantenga a los niños en casa si han vomitado dos o más veces en las últimas 24 horas. Sus hijos pueden volver a la escuela cuando no tengan síntomas y puedan tolerar líquidos.

El dolor de garganta puede ser un síntoma de estreptococo o un resfriado común. Si su hijo/a ha sido diagnosticado con estreptococo, mantenga a su hijo/a en casa durante al menos 2 dosis de antibióticos o 12 horas después de comenzar los antibióticos. Si su hijo/a tiene un resfriado leve, dolor de garganta sin fiebre, está bien ir a la escuela.

Conjuntivitis (Pinkeye) La Academia Estadounidense de Pediatría ya no recomienda quedarse en casa debido a la conjuntivitis a menos que el niño/a no sea capaz de evitar tocarse los ojos, tenga fiebre de más de 100º grados o el médico recomiende que se quede en casa.

Salpullido generalmente está bien asistir así a la escuela. Puede llamar a la enfermera de la escuela para evaluar si está preocupado/a . Si hay fiebre presente con la erupción, mantenga a su hijo/a en casa.

- La Escabiosis (Scabies): Los niños pueden regresar a la escuela una vez que se complete el tratamiento. Todavía tendrán picazón y erupción cutánea durante varias semanas.
- Las infecciones por SARM (MRSA): Los estudiantes pueden regresar a la escuela siempre y cuando el estudiante ya esté bajo tratamiento de un médico y cualquier drenaje de una her ida pueda ser cubierto.
- La tiña (Ringworm): El estudiante puede asistir así a la escuela. Debe mantener el área cubierta con ropa o vendaje.
- La viruela (Chicken Pox): El estudiante debe permanecer en casa hasta que toda la viruela tenga costra.
- Impétigo: El estudiante debe permanecer en casa hasta que las lesiones sean tratadas con antibióticos durante al menos 24 horas o las lesiones estén ya hechas costra.
- Mano Pie y Boca: El estudiante puede asistir a la escuela a menos que haya fiebre o que el niño/a no pueda mantener una buena higiene personal o babee constantemente

Piojos: no excluimos a los estudiantes de la escuela, una vez identificados, notificamos a los padres y la expectativa es que sean peinados, tratados y regresen a la escuela al día siguiente.

Dolor de oído: esto no es contagioso. No hay necesidad de mantener a un niño/a con dolor de oído leve en casa.

Resfriado leve o síntomas respiratorios: no son razón para mantener a los niños en casa. Una tos productiva persistente puede ser un signo de afecciones contagiosas como tos ferina, bronquitis viral, neumonía, gripe o crup y puede necesitar evaluación médica.

EAST BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT NEWS

EHS Students Recognized for FBLA National Awards

By Scott Christy, EHS FBLA Advisor

Hello from the Green Bay East High School chapter of Future Business Leaders of America! For those of you who haven't heard of FBLA, it is a nationwide organization for students preparing for careers in business. It is the largest student business organization in the nation with more than a quarter of a million members! FBLA prepares students for the real world by developing leadership, and communication skills through leadership training, conferences, service projects, and competitive events.

The EHS chapter of FBLA had numerous successes in the 2021-2022 school year. We took 13 students to regional competition, qualified 6 students for state competition in Madison, and had 4 students finish in the top 4 for their event at state to advance to FBLA Nationals in Chicago last June where they were delegates on the Wisconsin FBLA team.

2022 FBLA National Qualifiers from EHS included:

- Madeline Eckberg—Insurance and Risk Management
- Aaron Fisk—Computer Problem Solving
- Lydia Munchoff—Personal Finance
- Israel Sanchez—Spreadsheet Applications

At the FBLA Nationals Awards of Excellence Program on July 1st, Madeline Eckberg and Lydia Munchoff were recognized for their top 10 finish in their events with Madeline placing 9th and Lydia placing 6th. Since 2007 EHS FBLA has had 55 national qualifiers and 17 students who have achieved top 10 honors at FBLA Nationals.

In addition to meeting recognized business leaders from across the nation, competing in their event, and participating in a variety of informative and engaging workshops, EHS FBLA members also experienced the vibrant downtown Chicago area visiting Navy Pier, the spectacular Magnificent Mile, touring the Willis Tower and Shedd's Aquarium, and taking in a performance of the Blue Man Group.
