

Bolles language teachers nominated for 'Most Valuable Teacher' awards

Three Bolles language teachers have been nominated for the Florida Foreign Language Association's "Most Valuable Teacher" awards.

Mary Caroline Gillam, Ying Li and Cheng Mei Rothschild were nominated to receive the award, which recognizes teachers who have advanced instruction and/or enhanced students' language acquisition through enrichment activities such as participating in a competition or festivals.

FFLA will celebrate all MVT nominees at its upcoming conference, to be held Sept. 26-28 in Kissimmee.
