SANCTUARY CANDLES

Sanctuary Candles are available on a weekly basis starting on a Sunday. To "light a candle for someone" indicates one's intention to say a prayer for another person, the candle a symbol of that prayer.

For a donation of $25, you may have the candle burn for a week in memory of a deceased loved one, for a celebration or for a special intention.

Visit olgcv.org/liturgy-worship/devotions/candle to light a candle.

FRAUD ALERT!

Fairfax County Police Department's (FCPD) Financial Crimes Unit wants to provide our community with the tools to spot a scammer posing as a bank or financial institution. Scams take many forms, but one of the most common is the bank imposter scam. Understanding the scam and ways to spot it is the first step to protecting your hard-earned money.

The Scam: These begin when suspects text or call posing as banks and notifying victims of fraud alerts or breaches on their account. If you reply to these text messages or answer these cold calls from unknown numbers, the scammer will contact you pretending to represent the bank's fraud department and ask you to verify personal and banking information. Scammers can "spool" phone numbers and appear on your Caller ID from a known number. At some point, they may ask you to log in to your bank and provide them with a confirmation code sent to your phone, or recent bank transaction information. The scammer then uses this personal and banking transaction information to contact your bank pretending to be you and steal money from your account.

Prevention: 1. Just HANG UP!

If an unsolicited call or text comes from an unknown number, just hang up or delete it. You may independently verify the contact information of your bank's fraud department through their official phone app or website contact information and contact them yourself.

2. Don't share personal information. Never share personal or financial information over the phone unless you initiated the call and are certain of the recipient's legitimacy.

3. Never let anyone "remote" into your computer. Scammers may pretend to be trying to "fix" your computer or refund money for an alleged fraud charge.

4. Verify caller identities. Always confirm the identity of the person or organization contacting you. Hang up and call the institution by using their known contact information from official websites, official bills, invoices, etc. Apple, Microsoft, Norton, McAfee, eBay, PayPal, Amazon, or Google will never call you on the phone and ask for any kind of payment.

5. Nobody asks for payment in gift cards. Anyone who calls you on the phone, requires you to stay on the phone and asks for payments with gift cards of any kind (Greendot, iTunes, Google Play, Target, Walmart, etc.) should be considered suspicious. It's likely a scam. Other fraud indications are requests for money through wire transfers (MoneyGram, Western Union, Walmart to Walmart, Zelle, Venmo, Cash App) or deposits into Bitcoin ATMS.

6. Consult with family or friends. Before making any financial decisions, especially those involving large sums or unfamiliar technologies, consult with trusted family members or friends.

7. Law Enforcement will never call you on the phone and ask to pay money to avoid arrest or post a bond. Other common scams include notice of missing jury duty or a federal agent calling you to say that your name and identity have been discovered being involved in criminal activity or money laundering. Federal agents and local police will never call you on the phone and ask for money for any reason.

If you've been a victim of financial crime, please file a report through the FCPD Financial Crimes Online Reporting (FiCOR) website at fairfaxcounty.gov/police/HowDoI/FinancialCrimes. If you're unable to file a report on the computer, call the non-emergency line, 703.691.2131 to have an officer assist you with making a FiCOR report. (Thanks to Fairfax County Police Department)

In recent months, two friends were scammed out of thousands of dollars each via their computers, which displayed a full-screen "alert" that their bank accounts had fraudulent activity. One was accompanied with flashing lights and sound. Both responded by clicking on the Customer Service number as directed, and they were immediately "had." One became embroiled in an hours-long, complicated scheme, the other didn't even realize what she'd done until an FBI agent came to her door some days later. We're a generous, trusting generation and think "That won't ever happen to me!" But we're all vulnerable and need to be vigilant—very vigilant.

The Gift of Time

Ever wonder when someone tells you, "You shine today"? We all have gifts that God has given to us. Whether you sing, play an instrument, cook, read, or do volunteering, etc., there is much to be said about those special gifts. To do what you love and what God has given you a unique heart to do is true ministry.

Everyone is unique in their interests, desires, dreams, and ambitions. God blesses each of us differently. Even with all you do, you may feel as if there is still something more out there that you need to do.

OLGC Ministry of Care

If you feel that you have a gift to offer—to be with the elderly, go to the homebound and/or a nursing home, you are on the right track. OLGC invites you to share that gift by participating in homebound ministry. God will reward you with grace and blessings. When you go and visit them and see the joy you bring to them, that is an everlasting joy that will remain with you.

Please reach out to Maria Romero at welcome@olgcv.org or by calling 703.896.7419, if you are interested in visiting the homebound, a nursing home, or just want to follow along and see how rewarding this can be.

You do not need to be an expert in doing this ministry. You will be trained. Consider the ministry of companionship that blesses the vulnerable in our community.

REFLEXIÓN SALESIANA

décimo Cuarto Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario 7 de julio

El Evangelio de hoy nos narra cómo Jesús experimentó el rechazo, y cuánto le sorprendió la falta de fe en Él que demostraron algunas personas. San Francisco de Sales nos habla de la fe como un acto de consentimiento al amor de Dios:

Casi siempre hay un lapso largo entre el momento en que despertamos de la incredulidad, y el momento en que tomamos la decisión de creer plenamente en el amor de Dios, y en su preocupación por nosotros. Muchas veces se presentan dificultades entre los primeros movimientos de la fe en la bondad de Jesucristo, y en nuestra decisión de creerlo. San Agustín dejó pasar un tiempo antes de aceptar completamente las enseñanzas de Jesucristo. En una ocasión San Ambrosio le dijo: “Si no crees, ora para que puedas llegar a hacerlo”.

Durante este tiempo nosotros oramos como lo hiciera San Agustín, quien en un momento exclamó: “Señor, yo sí creo, pero ayúdame a dejar mi incredulidad”. Esto quiere decir, “aun cuando ya no me encuentro sumergido en la oscura noche de la infidelidad, ilumina el horizonte de mi alma con los rayos de luz de tu fe, ya que aún no soy el creyente que debería ser. El conocimiento que provee la fe aun es frágil dentro de mí, y por lo tanto se mezcla ocasionalmente con la duda”.

Dios llama a nuestros corazones continuamente, hasta que las enseñanzas de Jesús nos resultan placenteras. Mientras logramos llegar a ese punto, la bondad de Dios jamás cesa en sus esfuerzos por lograr un acercamiento con nosotros por medio de las inspiraciones. Aun así, nosotros somos libres para acceder Su llamado amoroso, o para rechazarlo. Los grandes ríos se esparcen al llegar a las llanuras abiertas, y ocupan cada vez más espacio. Así ocurre con el amor sagrado de Dios, el cual, siempre y cuando no lo rechazamos, continúa creciendo en nosotros hasta que nos convierte totalmente. El amor de Dios es nuestro guía en la travesía hacia el perdón. Nos consuela, nos anima y nos fortalece en medio de las dificultades. Es por esto por lo que la fe incluye un punto de partida que es el amor que el corazón siente por las cosas de Dios. No rechazamos ese regalo que es la fe.

Catechists

This fall at OLGC, more than 300 children and young people will sign up to learn more about Jesus and the Catholic faith. You can help them learn and grow in faith by becoming a catechist for Faith Formation.

We are looking for adults and high schoolers with a desire to teach, and we provide you with training, materials, and support throughout the year.

We have our Catechist meeting and walkthrough on Tuesday, August 20th with classes beginning September 7th.

This year, we are waiving the registration and sacramental fees for Catechists who are teaching CCF and have students in the program.

Thank you in advance for your consideration, time, and commitment to the growth of Christ's church; this mission is dependent on our Catechists. If you know anyone who would be interested in being a catechist, please let us know!

"Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age."

"Free to Be Holy"—A Talk by Matt Lozano

All are invited to hear Catholic author and speaker Matt Lozano talk about "Free to Be Holy: Discovering Who You Are in Christ" on Tuesday, July 16, at 7 p.m. in the Basilica of Saint Mary Lyceum Auditorium, 313 Duke Street, Alexandria. The talk is based on Matt's book by the same title and will focus on how being holy is an invitation to understand how Jesus made us holy and how we can approach a life of holiness with confident faith and joyful hope. Matt essentially proposes that the pursuit of holiness is not a hopeless struggle but an adventure of discovering who we are in Jesus. Lozano is also the director of training for Unbound, a ministry of healing in which a trained prayer team prays with individuals to assist them in overcoming the spiritual obstacles they encounter in their path of Christian discipleship and helping them to take hold of greater freedom in Christ.
