

BACHELOR OF LIBERAL STUDIES

The Criminal Justice and Human Behavior major offers interdisciplinary curriculum designed to prepare students for a career in law enforcement, corrections, and the court system.

The program provides students with increased critical thinking and problem solving skills, ethical decision diplomacy, and cultural diversity awareness and appreciation to serve a complex and diverse society.

Students who earn this degree can find rewarding careers within any of the three branches of the criminal justice: law enforcement, the court system, and corrections. If graduate school is on your radar, the Criminal Justice and Human Behavior major provides the foundation you need to succeed in advanced degree programs in leadership, forensic sciences, or public administration.
