Parent/Student Equipment Release Form

Georgetown ISD is committed to providing the athletic equipment to be worn in practices and games by the district's student-athletes. However, the District does recognize the desire of parents or students to explore the option of providing their own equipment to be worn with the approval of district officials. The following guidelines are established to provide the conditions under which equipment may be released to the school district for use by student-athletes:

- All released equipment must be equal to or an upgrade to standard GISD equipment and if approved for use becomes the property of the GISD and its use is then solely determined by district officials.
- All released equipment must be unused and new; and must include the date of purchase with a sales receipt included.
- All released equipment must be approved by the District as meeting the safety standards for the activity as certified by the NFHS (National Federation of High Schools) and the NOCSAE (National Operating Committee on Standards for Athletic Equipment).
- Only district officials may alter the equipment or make changes to the equipment from original purchase such as changing a helmet facemask, hardware replacement, addition of visor, or bladder replacement. This list only provides examples and does not limit other changes to equipment as done by a district official.
- The District may accept equipment of a different brand or style than what is provided to the other student-athletes, but the release and acceptance of such equipment could lead to the inability of the District to repair or replace the item when damaged. Thus, the athlete would not be allowed to return to competition until parental permission is granted to use other District owned equipment, or the parent provides new equipment or parts for repair to the District.
- The District will be responsible for the recertification of the equipment, if needed.
- The District shall make every effort to provide the released equipment to the student-athlete as long as it is deemed safe to do so by District officials.
- The parent or guardian must sign a release form forfeiting possession of the equipment to the GISD and understands the equipment will at no point be returned for use outside of district activities.
- The equipment will be released back to the parents at the conclusion of the student's eligibility at that campus.
