

The Oriskany Alternative High School (AHS) students pursue careers rather than jobs. Technology offers opportunity to self-reflect and gain insight on potential career paths. Since individual learning style should coordinate with job duties, www.educationplanner.org provides a self-assessment for students to identify if they're a visual, auditory or tactile learner. In addition, the website offers a Career Cluster Activity that matches interests to five career clusters for students to further investigate potential careers. Once students have narrowed to a specific career, they further research to create a help wanted ad and display the Career Spotlight. This individually paced project culminates with a portfolio containing a job application, resume and finally, a mock interview.
