

Parent & Teacher Resources

The GATE department is committed to working with teachers and parents to enrich the educational experience of our gifted students. Teaching and parenting a gifted learner can be rewarding and challenging. There are a multitude of resources online as well as books of interest. We hope you find the resources below useful!

Books of Interest:

- Emotional Intensity in Gifted Students - Christine Fonesca
- Misdiagnosis and Dual Diagnosis of Gifted Children & Adults – James T. Webb
- Parenting Gifted Kids – James R. Delisle
- Bright Not Broken – Diane M. Kennedy
- Smart & Scattered – Peg Dawson
- Raising a Gifted Child – Carol Fertig
- Raisin’ Brains – Surviving My Smart Family – Karen L.J. Isaacson (more of a light-hearted look at giftedness and families)
- Raising Your Spirited Child – Mary Sheedy Kurcinka
- Smart Parenting for Smart Kids - Eileen Kennedy-Moore (perfectionism is a key topic in this one)
- Make Your Worrier a Warrior - Dan Peters, Ph. D
- Parenting Gifted Children: 101 - An Introduction to Gifted Kids & Their Needs - Tracy Inman & Jana Kirchner
- Smart But Scattered: The Revolutionary “Executive Skills” Approach to Helping Kids Reach Their Potential - Peg Dawson & Richard Guare
- The End of Average – Todd Rose (Jaggedness principle)