INSTRUCTIONAL FOCUS

BISD Deputy Superintendent, Liesa Land, provided a brief update regarding Early Childhood Special Education (ECSE), a federal and state mandated program for young children with disabilities specifically to children between the ages of 3 and 5 (prior to kindergarten). In an effort to expand BISD's continuum of Special Education services, this year BISD implemented two ECSE transition classrooms designed to support students who have deficits in specific areas of speech. Currently, BISD has 20 students enrolled in ECSE Transition classrooms and teachers, Amy Younce and Susan Mora lead instruction. In addition, BISD has two self-contained classrooms focusing on students with high needs. Currently 14 students are enrolled in self-contained ECSE classrooms with teachers Robin Thompson and Amy Tatum. BISD is proud of the work that Northwest Elementary School and the ECSE teachers are doing as they work to support students with disabilities transition into the school environment.
