

English I Honors

Teacher: V. Morales

E-mail: vmorales@srtx.org

(E-mails will not be corresponded until August 12, 2024)

Introduction

Welcome to English I Honors. This class will be very different from the Language Arts classes you have had in the past. The honors program is rigorous and demands your dedication, determination, and responsibility. You will be challenged to embrace a higher level of reading, writing, and critical thinking. In addition, you will be required to refine your study practices, manage your time effectively, and work responsibly.

Summer Assignment

In order to keep minds active and prepare for more intense reading, you will be required to read one book before the first day of school.

The book you will need to read is:

Night by Elie Wiesel

<https://www.lcsnc.org/cms/lib/NC01911169/Centricity/Domain/1120/NIGHT%20BOOK%20PDF.pdf>

Novel Test:

You will have a novel exam during the first week of school. Your exam will either consist of short answer responses, an analysis essay or a combination of both.

This novel will be the anchor text for the first six weeks, so if you choose not to read the book, you will have a difficult time completing all assignments.