BAS Community

Introduction

The Community Resource Guide started as a class project for Level 5 ESL students at Burbank Adult School. Students compiled this resource guide over a period of two months in Spring 2022 in teams of five to six students. The entries are as up to date as possible. Thanks to all the students whose efforts made this resource guide, and a special thanks to Karla Bonilla, whose graphic designs adorn the front cover of this publication.

The Resource Guide is divided into sections that include services for: Child Care, City of Burbank, Education, Emergency, Financial, Healthcare, Housing, Immigration, Motor Vehicle, Nutritional, and Work-Related Resources for students and staff. The intention of the resource guide is to help all students and instructors at the adult school with problems and workable solutions.

The entries for each of the categories mentioned above contain company names, addresses, email, telephone number, the company web site, a brief overview of the resource, hours of operation, and other information. This guide covers the cities of Burbank, Sun Valley, and North Hollywood, in addition to some organizations that are based in the City of Los Angeles. The resources are private organizations and government-sponsored organizations.

We hope that you will find all the entries useful for you and your family, whether you are new to the United States, new to Burbank, or just need to know who to contact or where to go for your situation.

Housing Resources

The Housing Choice Voucher Program (HCV), also known as Section 8, is the federal government's major program for assisting very low-income families, the elderly, and the disabled to afford decent, safe, and sanitary housing in the private market.

A housing subsidy is paid to the landlord directly by the Public Housing Agency (PHA) on behalf of the participating family. The family then pays the difference between the actual rent charged by the landlord and the amount subsidized by the program.

Burbank Public Libraries are locations where community members from all walks of life come to find information and get connected to services. While traditional Library staff are well-trained in research skills to provide that information.

Burbank Public Library's social worker joined the staff in July 2021. Sona Ter-Yegishyan is co-located at Burbank's three libraries and two senior centers, in a position jointly funded by the Library and the Parks, Recreation and Community Services Department of the City of Burbank. Sona brings an important level of expertise to these settings, allowing for improved services to those in need. She is available to meet one-on-one with individuals of all ages and families in order to understand their needs and connect them to services. To this end, she also works to expand the Library's partnerships with local and regional nonprofits and government agencies who provide services including shelter, food, mental and physical health care, financial and legal assistance, transportation and more. Services are available to people experiencing homelessness but also anyone who needs assistance.

Burbank Public Library's social services connections work hand-in-hand with other Library services aimed at helping people improve their education, skills and life prospects. CHIRLA
Coalition for Humane
Immigrant Rights

CHIRLA organizes immigrants and their families to fight harmful policies and demand equity and justice from our government. Our organizers build power through forming new relationships, recruiting members, developing leaders, and planning campaigns to make a change.

All the rights enjoyed by citizens and immigrants in this country result from the organized work and the struggle of people of color; civil rights, women's rights, and labor rights are not a gift from those in power. The people affected have understood their claims, fought for those rights, and won them. Together, we unite to bring about a just society, fully inclusive of immigrants.

CHIRLA's first director was Father Luis Olivares, the pastor at Our Lady Queen of Angels Church. As a leading voice of the Sanctuary movement, Olivares used his church to protect refugees fleeing human rights abuses in Central America in the 1980s.

CHIRLA has since become one of the largest and most effective advocates for immigrant rights, organizing, educating and defending immigrants and refugees in the streets, in the courts, and in the halls of power.
