

Greater Lowell Tech announces fall Students of the Month

By ALANA MELANSON | amelanson@lowellsun.com | Lowell Sun

PUBLISHED: January 13, 2022 at 8:06 p.m. | UPDATED: January 13, 2022 at 8:06 p.m.

TYNGSBORO — Superintendent Jill Davis and Assistant Superintendent/Principal Michael Barton have announced eight Greater Lowell Technical High School students were selected as Students of the Month for October and November.

For each month, a student from each grade is selected for academic achievement and displaying the school's core values of respect, effort, accountability, commitment and honesty (REACH).

October

Senior Madyson Arpin, of Dracut, Information Technology Services, is the No. 2 student in her class with an overall 4.39 GPA. She takes multiple Advanced Placement and honors classes and has completed dual enrollment chemistry coursework through Quincy College.

Madyson is chapter treasurer of SkillsUSA, a member of the National Honor Society/National Technical Honor Society and Outing Club and a school tour ambassador, and volunteers regularly through such events as Back to School Night, Baystate Marathon and City of Lights. She works at Hair We Are Salon in Dracut and plans to pursue a career in web development.

Junior Emily McRae, of Lowell, Medical Laboratory and Assisting, is in the top 3% of her class with an overall 4.21 GPA. She has received numerous academic awards including high honor roll and completed dual enrollment chemistry through Quincy College.

Emily is a member of the National Technical Honor Society/National Honor Society, Environmental Club, BioClub, Outing Club, Student Council and Junior Class Planning Committee and has played junior varsity lacrosse and soccer. She volunteers at Bay State Baptist Church as a Sunday school teaching assistant and plans to pursue a career in radiology.

Sophomore Sam Holmberg, of Lowell, Plumbing, is No. 3 in his class with a cumulative 4.6 GPA. He has received awards in perfect attendance and high honor roll and takes three honors classes.

Sam enjoys helping others through acts of kindness and likes to play and develop board games and create models. After graduation, Sam plans to pursue a career in plumbing and hopes to make a positive impact in his community through service and supporting local causes.

Freshman Dhruv Patel, of Lowell, is maintaining honor roll grades in all of his academic courses and is previewing a number of technical areas through the Exploratory Program. His goal is to pursue a career in engineering and he looks forward to his upcoming Engineering Technology exploratory.

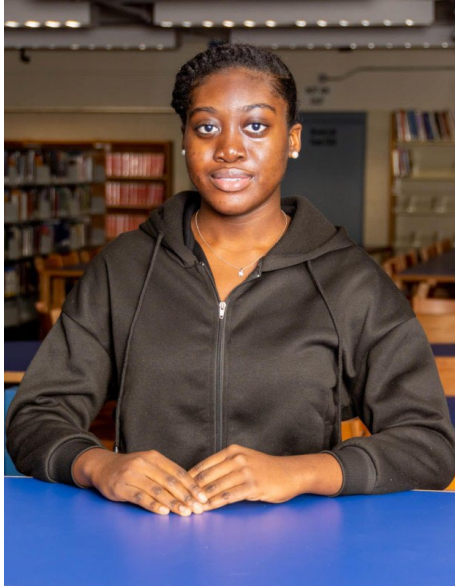

Dhruv participates in the SkillsUSA Freshman Program and indoor track and field team. He also enjoys dance and previously attended classes at Planet Dance in Lowell.

November

Senior Tealei Chandonnet, of Dracut, Health Assisting/Pre-Nursing, is in the top 3% of her class with an overall 4.18 GPA and a member of the National Honor Society/National Technical Honor Society. She takes honors courses and dual enrollment English Composition through Middlesex Community College.

Tealei is a three-season athlete and team captain in cross country, indoor and outdoor track, and has received numerous athletic awards. She is employed through the school's cooperative education program as a certified nursing assistant at Encompass Rehabilitation Hospital in Woburn and plans to pursue a career as a nurse practitioner.

Junior Nana Ama Asante Opoku, of Lowell, Medical Laboratory and Assisting, is in the top 3% of her class with an overall 4.23 GPA and is a high honor roll student. She takes several Advanced Placement and honors courses and completed dual enrollment chemistry through Quincy College.

Nana is a member of the National Technical Honor Society/National Honor Society and participates in school-wide service learning opportunities. She volunteers at her church, babysits and works at Market Basket. She plans to pursue a career as a physician assistant.

Sophomore Sorieya Mao, of Lowell, Hospitality, maintains an overall 4.25 GPA and takes honors-level coursework. She has received awards for honor roll and high honor roll.

Sorieya participates in the nonprofit Refuge Lowell, where she has explored photography, ceramics and designing murals and tiny houses. For the past three consecutive years, Sorieya has received awards through UMass Lowell's Martin Luther King Jr. Day art project. She plans to pursue a career in the hospitality field and become a flight attendant.

Freshman Logan Perry, of Tyngsboro, is maintaining high honor roll and honor roll grades in all of his academic and technical courses. He is previewing technical areas through the Exploratory Program and has found an interest in Medical Laboratory and Assisting.

Logan has become an active and dedicated member of the Music Club and enjoys volunteering outside of school. He hopes to become proficient in his future career and make a positive contribution to his community.

