TYNGSBORO -- Greater Lowell Technical High School recently selected its January Students of the Month, selected for displaying the characteristics of respect, effort, accountability, commitment and honesty in class and among their peers.

Jayson Monteiro of Lowell is the Senior of the Month. He is an honor-roll student in the Early Childhood Education program and has perfect attendance. He is a member of SkillsUSA and Drama Club, and he works at Visions Child Care Center through Greater Lowell Tech's Cooperative Education program. He volunteers at the Lowell City of Lights Parade and helps raise money for Lucy's Love Bus.

Jayson is training with Army recruiters and plans to enlist in the Army, then attend college. He was nominated for being compassionate and highly motivated.

Ajadus Rosa of Lowell is the Junior of the Month. He is an honor-roll student in the Marketing program. He has played basketball for the Gryphons, and volunteers at Greater Lowell Tech open houses. He is an intern at the in-school Lowell Five Bank branch.

Ajadus hopes to continue his education after graduation and pursue a Business degree. He was nominated for being an all-around great student.

Cameron Champoux-Legrand is the Sophomore of the Month. He is an honor-roll student in the Automotive Collision program and has perfect attendance. He competes for the cross-country and spring track teams.

Cameron plans to attend college and continue to work in the automotive field.

He was nominated for showing respect, never giving up, and exemplifying the values of dedication, integrity, honesty and community.

Kassy Rivera of Lowell is the Freshman of the Month. She graduated last year from the Butler Middle School. She is an honor-roll student and a member of Project Purple, and plans to join the Greater Lowell Tech volleyball team as well as the Bible Club. She has volunteered at a local shelter and participated in the Team Walk for Cancer Care.

Kassy plans to attend college and is interested in becoming a chef, zoologist or real-estate agent. She was nominated for working hard in class and for having a positive and respectful attitude every day.
