TYNGSBORO -- Greater Lowell Technical High School recently selected its December Students of the Month, based on the characteristics of respect, effort, accountability, commitment and honesty in class and among their peers.

Mya Medina of Lowell is the Senior of the Month. She is an honor-roll student in the Cosmetology program. She is a member of the National Technical Honor Society and captain of the cheerleading team. Mya volunteers coaching youth cheerleading. She has participated in Greater Lowell's Open House, 8th Grade Tours and has participated in the City of Lights Parade, is the student representative to the School Committee, and is a member of the Student Council.

Mya plans to obtain her cosmetology license and work in the field. She was nominated for her commitment to the school community.

Leonardo Casella of Lowell is the Junior of the Month. He is an honor-roll student in the Design & Visual program. He is a member of the Drama Club and Music Club. He volunteers for open house and eighth-grade tours.

Leo plans to attend Massachusetts College of Art to study Architecture and Art History. He was nominated for always being willing to assist with class and with school activities.

Rachel Matte of Dracut is the Sophomore of the Month. She is an honor-roll student in the Health Assisting & Pre Nursing program. Rachel is a cheerleader and competes for the lacrosse and volleyball teams. She volunteers with the City of Lights Parade and works at a local surgical center.

Rachel plans to attend college to become an anesthesiologist. She was nominated for being a kind and caring student.

Kaynin Saing of Lowell is the Freshman of the Month. He entered Greater Lowell Tech from the Lowell Community Charter School. He competes for the football, wrestling and spring track teams. He has participated in many Class of 2022 planning events and volunteers as a tutor, collecting food for refugees, and cleaning local parks.

Kaynin is interested in joining the Marines or working in the plumbing field. He was nominated for being a hard-working and motivated student who always shows effort.
