TYNGSBORO -- Greater Lowell Technical High School recently selected its April Students of the Month. Each of the students displays Greater Lowell Tech's of respect, effort, accountability, commitment and honesty in their classes and among their peers.

Nicole Helms of Tyngsboro is the Senior of the Month. She is an honor-roll student in the Design and Visual shop, and is a member of the National Technical Honor Society and chapter historian and president for SkillsUSA. Also for SkillsUSA, she was a committee chair of the Chapter of Excellence Program this year and is a representative for the National Model of Excellence. In competition, she won a bronze medal last year and a gold medal this year. She received the CP English award in 2017 and the Ancillary Services Award in 2015 and 2017. She was named MVP and a league All-Star the last three years, and captain the last two years, for the swim team, for which she has set four school records. She was a Sun second-team All Star and received the Gryphon Gold Award last year. She is also a member of the spring track team.

Nicole was the Wendy's Heisman School Award recipient this year and participates in the Cooperative Education program at Greater Lowell Tech, working at a local company. She volunteers at open houses, and at shelters and food banks through her church and participated in the United Methodist Action Reach Out for Youth.

She will attend Massachusetts College of Art and Design to study Documentary Film and Photography. She was nominated for her strong organizational skills, an ability to follow through, and a sincere interest in improving her school community. She is described as a dedicated leader and a role model to younger students and a hard worker.

Anthony Milisci of Lowell is the Junior of the Month. He is an honor-roll student in the Programming and Web Development shop, and is a member of the National Technical Honor Society and vice president of SkillsUSA, for which he is also a state officer-elect for next year, and recipient of a Leader Award at the Fall State Leadership Conference, a silver medal in Chapter Business Procedure and a bronze medal in Web Design. He is a member of the swim team. In 2017, he received a bronze medal at the Greater Lowell Science Fair.

Anthony volunteers at his church, at the BayState Marathon and the Lowell General Hospital TeamWalk for CancerCare. He plans to attend college to earn a degree in Political Science or Cybersecurity with an interest in going into politics. He was nominated for being persistent in the face of challenges, and being determined to achieve any goal he sets.

Kyle McLeod of Lowell is the Sophomore of the Month. He is an honor-roll student in the Engineering shop. He received an award for perfect attendance last year and is member of SkillsUSA.

Kyle volunteers to assist his peers with SkillsUSA state preparation and mows his neighbors' lawns. He plans to attend college for Engineering or English, with hopes of attaining a challenging and well-paying job in the future. He was nominated for his hard work, dedication and positive attitude toward learning.

Cameron Champoux-Legrand of Lowell is the Freshman of the Month. He entered Greater Lowell Tech from the Butler Middle School and is an honor-roll student in the Auto Collision shop. He is a member of SkillsUSA.

Cameron hopes to seek employment as an auto-body technician after graduating. He was nominated for being a well-rounded and conscientious student who is always willing to help other students and teachers. He has an excellent work ethic, and the quality of his work is well above average. He is always polite and respectful.
