TYNGSBORO -- Greater Lowell Technical High School selected its February Students of the Month for displaying the characteristics of the school's core values of respect, effort, accountability, commitment and honesty. All are from Lowell.

Nathan Newcomb is the Senior of the Month. He is enrolled in the Graphics Communication program, is vice president of the Math Club and a member of the Drama Club. He recently won a gold medal at the SkillsUSA District Conference for Screen Printing Technology.

Nathan competes for the tennis and golf teams. In the future, he wants to own his own clothing shop and sell his own creations and images. He was nominated for his positive attitude toward learning and for demonstrating leadership skills in shop.

Alyssa Le is the Junior of the Month. She is an honor-roll student in the Medical Assisting program. She is in the National Technical Honor Society and has volunteered at open house, swim meets, the Baystate Marathon and the Flower Grams fundraiser for National Technical Honor Society.

Alyssa received Outstanding Achievement Awards in English II and Chemistry. She has been "Caught Doing Good" at Greater Lowell Tech for going above and beyond to help her peers. She wants to attend Endicott College to become a physical therapist and join Endicott's dance team. She was nominated for her positive attitude toward learning, her great personality, and for going above and beyond.

Cole Blades is the Sophomore of the Month.

He is an honor-roll student in the Plumbing shop. At Thanksgiving, he helped deliver meals to needy families in Greater Lowell.

Cole was named Most Valuable Player of the soccer team and Rookie of the Year for the baseball last spring. He wants to become a licensed plumber. He was nominated for his positive attitude and for being a team player.

Caedmon Campbell is the Freshman of the Month. He is a member of the Bible Club and Project Purple. He is an honor-roll student and has helped needy people during Christmas and attended Teen Block at the Lowell Community Health Center to educate himself and gain the skills necessary to be a positive influence to his peers.

Caedmon competes for the spring track team. He hopes to be a programmer for Microsoft in the future. He was nominated for being respectful, hard-working and having a positive attitude. He puts forth great effort and sets an example for other students.
