

Greater Lowell Tech inducts students into National Technical Honor Society

The Lowell Sun

UPDATED: 12/19/2017 06:34:48 AM EST

TYNGSBORO -- Greater Lowell Technical High School inducted six seniors and 37 juniors into its chapter of the National Technical Honor Society during a recent ceremony held in the school auditorium.

Ten current NTHS members assisted in the ceremony. Chapter President Jonathan Bell and Vice President Gabriel Pena placed stoles on each inductee, while Nathalie Geraldo also bestowed to each a yellow rose. Gabriel, Nathalie, Katelynn Jacques and Kenny Dela Cruz assisted in the candle-lighting ceremony, which ended with Kenny leading the inductees in their pledge of membership. Also assisting during the ceremony were Caitlin Ashe, Hallie Bosia, Olivia Demers, Simone McCreary and Paige Sullivan.

The newly inducted members are Emily Azevedo, Kalika Aun, Callie Bartlett, Tiana Beaupre, Evan Blatus, Angelina Chhim, Madison Cormier, Zachary Demmons, Noah Faletra, Mackenzie Faria, Nicolas Fisher, Samantha Fontaine, Emily Goglia, Zachary Grenier, Kiara Hernandez, Rashad Herring, Erin Hunt, Michaela Kelly, Connor Lagasse, Alyssa Le, Vinz Macaisip, Raysa Manon, Ethan McGuire, Anthony Milisci, Saleena Millman, Craig Murphy, Malanie Neang, Anderson Nouv, Joyle Kryztian Ortega, Ronald Patterson, Visoth Pen, Jordan Pereira and Nicole Rosario, Vivian Teixeira, David Trainor and Hope Vigdor.

Newly inducted members of Greater Lowell Technical High School's National Technical Honor Society. COURTESY PHOTO

Sun staff photos can be ordered by visiting our SmugMug site.