

Greater Lowell Tech Early Childhood program hears from veteran

The Lowell Sun

UPDATED: 11/24/2017 09:35:55 AM EST

The Early Childhood Education program at Greater Lowell Technical High School, along with the Lil Gryphons Preschool, honored retired Navy veteran Richard Desrochers, who was visiting with his wife, Earlene. Students, staff and younger children listened as Desrochers described life aboard the USS Albany, on which he served as a radar technician for four years. The children thanked him for his service by singing several Navy and Veterans Day songs and by presenting him with thank-you cards and a "Retired Navy Veteran" medal.

COURTESY PHOTO

The Early Childhood Education program at Greater Lowell Technical High School, along with the Lil Gryphons Preschool, honored retired Navy veteran Richard Desrochers, who was visiting with his wife, Earlene. Students, staff and younger children listened as Desrochers described life aboard the USS Albany, on which he served as a radar technician for four years. The children thanked him for his service by singing several Navy and Veterans Day songs and by presenting him with thank-you cards and a "Retired Navy Veteran" medal.
COURTESY PHOTO