

Greater Lowell Tech inducts 46 into National Honor Society

The Lowell Sun

UPDATED: 11/27/2016 06:36:11 AM EST

TYNGSBORO -- Greater Lowell Technical High School inducted 17 seniors and 29 juniors into its chapter of the National Technical Honor Society during a recent ceremony held at the school auditorium.

Assistant Superintendent/Principal Jill Davis led the award ceremony, describing the significant accomplishments of each inductee for the faculty, family and friends in attendance.

Hannah Keefe and Zachary Gaudet, the chapter's president and vice president, respectively, distributed membership awards and National Technical Honor Society stoles to each inductee, while current member Nicole St. Hillaire gave them each a yellow rose. Current members Alexandria Anderson, Julia Drury, Nicholas LaFave, Noel Murphy and Rebecca Peters assisted with the ceremony.

Greater Lowell Tech students inducted into the National Honor Society include, front row, from left.: Crystal Shemchuk, Tess Vigdor, Rhiannon Peden, Olivia Brum, Alvin Tran, Brianna Sanchez, Sarah Belley, Katelynn Jacques, Jade Caldwell, Megan Provencher and Alea Velazquez; second row, Darny Pop, Bridget Porter, Nathalie Geraldo, Davian Parrilla, Janrey Javier, Ian Paquette, Joseph Morel, Kylie Lambert, Peter Luy, Kenny Dela Cruz and Ashli McInnis; third row, Caitlyn Ashe, Julia Dailey, Gina Teixeira, Carol Chebet, Karen Tobon, Olivia Demers, Jaenald Javier, Erik Nou, Simone McCreary, Vanessa Rey, Anetia Rom and Paige Sullivan; and, back row, Nicole Helms, Brian Flores, Gabriel Pena, Michael Atchison, Bobby Phon, Rosario Puleo, Matthew Lafortune, Jonathan Bell, William Schmidt, Kevin Scott, Lucas Faletra and Hallie Bosia. COURTESY PHOTO

Sun staff photos can be ordered by visiting our SmugMug site.