

Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

Course Description: This course addresses training needs relating to student education records. This course covers important legal terms related to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), the general responsibilities of staff members under FERPA, FERPA's rules regarding confidentiality and disclosure, and the rights of students to access and inspect their own education records kept by the school.

Course Title: SafeSchools: FERPA: Confidentiality of Records 2024-2025

Introduction- Section Questions (Test questions reflect the order presented in the video)

- Which of the following is an example of an educational record according to FERPA?
- Sole possession records are records that are:
- Schools that fail to comply with FERPA regulations could:

Confidentiality and Disclosure- Section Questions (Test questions reflect the order presented in the video)

- Disclosure means to permit access to, or the release of, transfer or other communication of:
- Research data for a third party that's easily traceable to a particular student can still violate FERPA law.
- Education records may be released without consent if:
- Which of the following is NOT an example of directory information that can be disclosed without consent? (Employees should review the list of examples in the video to pick the answer that is NOT listed).
- School officials can release personally identifiable information without parental consent if:
- FERPA regulations require that local education agencies provide parents and currently enrolled eligible students with notification of their rights under FERPA:
- FERPA prohibits the release of personally identifiable information without parental consent. However, there are exceptions, which of the following is NOT an exception?
- The annual FERPA notification process must ensure that parents understand their rights to:

Access to Education Records- Section Questions (Test questions reflect the order presented in the video)

- Under FERPA, an "eligible student":
- If a requested education record includes information about other children:
- As specified by FERPA, noncustodial parents:
- When parents or eligible students request inspection and review of education records, federal law stipulates that the requested information must be provided within:
- Which of the following is NOT protocol if a parent feels an education record is inaccurate or misleading?