Patricia Hall Krow, Class of 1973, being recognized for her years (past and ongoing) of commitment to the community, many of them known and others simply the many “little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love,” that Wordsworth referred to in “Lines Written a Few Miles Above Tintern Abbey.” A few of the more public acts of service are community events, HBPA, Communities That Care, the American Legion, Miss Hummelstown Pageant, and Rotary.
