Linda Rice (LD 1982) is cited for her leadership as a professional horse trainer. Based on winnings and earnings in the thoroughbred industry, she has been recognized as the most successful and decorated female horse trainer in history. After graduation from Penn State, she proceeded to gain a national reputation among her peers and has been recognized as the Trainer of the Year in 2009, 2010, and 2013 by the prestigious New York Thoroughbred Breeders Association. As a board member of the New York Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, and chairperson of the Scholarship Committee, she works to raise money for educational grants for workers in the horse raising business and their families. Linda Rice was nominated by Wade Seibert (LD 1965) and Judith Witmer, author of Loyal Hearts Proclaim – Lower Dauphin High School: The First Fifty Years.