Sheila Miller (LD 1970) for her leadership in the agricultural industry in Dauphin County where her family farmed as she grew up and graduated from Lower Dauphin, and in Berks County where she and her husband operate a farm. She is a graduate of Penn State University. Her career includes working for the leading agricultural newspaper in Pennsylvania and as a member of the Pennsylvania General Assembly from 1992 to 2006, where she served on the Agriculture Committee. Currently she advocates for farmers and works to showcase their produce in local communities and cities. She is the founding President of Historic Barn and Farm Foundation of Pennsylvania. She was nominated by Russel Cassel (LD 1965), President of the Lower Dauphin Alumni Association and Dr. Julia Staver (LD 1970), veterinarian and winner of an Alumni Award herself in 2010.