HISTORY

Angelica, founded around 1802, and incorporated in 1835, is the oldest town in the county. At this time the town consisted of what is now Allen, Amity, Bird-sall, Scio, and parts of Andover, Alfred, and Independence.

The park, which now holds a croquet court, was deeded to the inhabitants of Angelica on September 8, 1831 by Phillip Church. The center of the park is the center of Angelica and Alleghany County.

For many years Angelica was the center of culture in all the surrounding communities. There were many mills, such as grist, flour, tool, and pail mills, all of which were run by water power.

From 1808 until 1859 Angelica was the county seat and court was held here until 1892. Our court house is the oldest in the county, built in 1820.

Although these things made Angelica the most important town in the county, school was not held until 1807. These were one-room affairs. The teachers were people who were asked by the townspeople to teach reading, writing, and arithmetic. The furnishings consisted of desks and a dunce block.

Later on, districts were formed and teachers were paid by taxes. Usually the teachers received two dollars a week plus their room and board.

The Angelica Academy was built later for the teaching of the youth of both sexes. This building served both as school and the Presbyterian Church. In 1859 the building burned and was not rebuilt.

On April 1, 1879, the village accepted twenty thousand dollars which was left in Col. Wilson's will for a non-sectarian academy and grade school which was called the Wilson Academy. In 1904 the building was too small so a new building was built and called "Wilsonian High School".

In 1929 it was necessary to add a new addition to this school. The new addition included a gym which Angelica had never had.

In 1944 sixteen small districts were consolidated with Angelica making it Angelica Central School.

In 1952 a temporary building was erected, containing a new shop, cafeteria, home economics, and first grade.

Now, in 1954 the question of the people of the town is "Will there be a new school in Angelica"? Lets watch and see what time brings to Angelica and our educational system.

Dedication

With the realization that we are still very young in heart and experience, with the knowledge that within their counsel there is yet peace and love, and a deeper, calmer faith for us to seek--we gratefully dedicate this
