History of the Class of 1967

September, 1954. Forty-one frightened, awed, excited kindergarteners climbed the steps for their first day of school. Miss Mary Dispart and Mrs. Zana Dickens greeted us and helped us enjoy this first year.

In first grade, with a little assistance from Mrs. Mary Hosmer and Mrs. Virginia Horner, we finally learned to read. We were divided into two groups for the first time this year, and Randy Bentley joined us.

In second grade, Amy Barnetson and Carl Kemp arrived just in time to help us make bread, under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Virjean Francis and Mrs. Helen Steenrod.

Third grade found us going in the "big door" and learning to write. Gail Johnson and Meredith McNinch joined our group this year. Mrs. Bernice Hall and Mrs. Helen Kane suffered with us as we tried to learn the combinations to our new lockers in gym.

Mrs. Gertrude Cline and Miss Ruth Rossney were our fourth grade teachers. Roger Perkins became a member of our class; we were all astonished at his naturally curly hair!

Fifth grade—we were finally upstairs! Miss Grace Hammond and Mrs. Bessie Gilmore, who replaced Mrs. Vivian Keller, were our teachers. This year will be remembered for the plays so many of us wrote, the one play we presented for the PTA, the numerous experiences we had skating around the room on eraser "skates," and the fun we had climbing up the bookshelves.

While we were in the sixth grade, with Mrs. Freda Tower and Mr. Robert Goodwin as teachers, we took a trip to Buffalo, where we visited the Museum of Science, the Zoo, and the Airport. Mr. Goodwin had to explain to us just why we couldn't run down the "up" escalator. In March of this year, we celebrated the arrival of spring, much to the dismay of a certain practice teacher.

Next came junior high school. Seventh and eighth grade cheerleading, basketball, choir, and our first attempts at homemaking and shop began to split us up into different interest groups. Deb and Lynn Green joined us in seventh grade, and Linda Middaugh came while we were in eighth.

And then, at last, we were in high school. Ray Swarthout joined us when we were freshmen. We were "warmly" initiated by the Student Council and upperclassmen in October.

As sophomores, Bob Brown became a member of our group. We held a successful dance, and took our first Regents in June, after weeks of apprehension.

"Only two years left—we're upperclassmen!" These were some of the thoughts we brought to school as we began our eventful junior year.

On November 4-5, 1965, we presented our Junior Play, "Two Girls and a Ghost," starring Terry Schmelzer, Gail Johnson, Owen Harris, Cheryl Wirt, Dorothy Clark, John Miller, Pam Tracy, Debby Miller, Debby Lowe, and Roger Perkins (as the Ghost). The singing "ability" of one of the cast and the talent of the entire cast led to the success of the play.

Our rings arrived on December 10, and we proudly displayed them. Sherry Hinman joined us in January.

After weeks of work, we held our prom, "Harbor Lights," on April 29, with the theme carried out in blue and white. At midnight, the King and Queen were crowned and the court was chosen. Our Queen was Pam Tracy; our King, Terry Schmelzer. Their attendants were Dorothy Clark, Gail Johnson, Debby Miller, Dirk Knapp, Owen Harris, and Brian Baker.

As soon as school started our senior year, we began selling magazines to finance our trip. On October 12, we left Belmont for Washington, D.C., and four hectic days of sightseeing and fun.

On December 22, we gave our final dance, and then settled down to the serious matters of college applications and other plans for the future. Only 18 members of our original class remain. They are: Nancy Allen, Sharon Bentley, Brian Baker, Will Chind, Dorothy Clark, Jill Coombes, Sue Hebblethwaite, Owen Harris, Dirk Knapp, Debby Lowe, Melissa Lyman, Marylu MacEwan, Debby Miller, John Miller, Terry Schmelzer, Pam Tracy, and Cheryl Wirt.

June, 1967. Twenty-nine seniors will file onto a stage, and walk off again a few minutes later as graduates—alumni. The short ceremony is the climax of thirteen years of plans and learning. As we continue in life, these years of memories of trips, dances, plays, games, and parties will be happy memories. A sincere thanks to all who made them possible.
