HISTORY OF CLASS OF 1963

GRADE SCHOOL

It was the year 1950. Thirty-eight small, wide-eyed, bewildered children entered through the doors of Belmont Central School for the first time. The halls seemed unusually big, the ceilings unusually high; they all knew that it was going to take them a while to become used to their surroundings and a few realized that they would have thirteen long years to do so.

Of the original thirty-eight members who entered the halls of B.C.S., only seventeen are remaining. Those who have spent their thirteen years at Belmont are: Norma Biancuzzo, Rita Blackman, Dennis Bunnell, Jeanne Coombes, Linda Creighton, Barbara Decker, Gloria Davison, Edward Fleischman, Edith Francisco, Marlee Hand, Kathryn Kenyon, Catherine Lamb, John McCaffrey, Jeanne Pierce, Patricia Shelley, John Shuttleworth, and Laurie Smith.

After "struggling" through our first year of school, we were all very eager to enter first grade and meet our new teachers, Mrs. Virginia Horner and Mrs. June Moshano. It was in the first grade that we had our first and only encounter with the "famous" Dick and Jane books.

When we arrived at the doors of the second grade rooms, we were greeted at the door by our new teachers, Mrs. Helen Steenrod and Mrs. Patricia Tompkins. We felt very privileged when we were the first grade to occupy the new second grade rooms in the new section. In second grade we were all thrilled when we learned of an upcoming trip to the fire hall to see the fire engines. When the day finally arrived, we were all hustled off to the corridor where we got a firsthand look at the engines and heard a talk on fire-safety.

In third grade, we found an old friend had joined us, and we welcomed Mrs. Moshano, along with Mrs. Louise Patterson and Mrs. Helen Kane. It was in this grade that we learned the Palmer Method of Writing, and all of us can still remember making the little circles and the slanted lines.

In fourth grade a birthday was a very special event; and we all started looking forward to the day for weeks, sometimes months, ahead of time. It was on our birthdays that we were presented with a gift by our teachers, Miss Ruth Rossney and Mrs. Gertrude Cline. Shirley Chind joined us just in time to receive her present along with the rest of us.

The next year our school world increased as we walked up the stairs to the fifth grade homerooms of Miss Grace Hammond and Mrs. Freda Tower. It was in fifth grade that we were joined by Nancy Davis.

In the sixth grade we all (well, almost all) experienced the "pleasant" sting of Mr. Bernard McClure's paddle. We all spent many happy hours playing chess and other games with our new classmates, Jerry Decker, Jim Jones, and Woody Moody.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR HIGH

Finally, we had reached junior high school, our goal for more than six years. Now we were on our way; we had only one more level to go and that wouldn't be upon us for two years, so we all "sat back" and enjoyed ourselves. In the seventh and eighth grades several of us participated in basketball and cheerleading. It was in eighth grade that we took our first Regents and added Alice Perkins, Alice Brown, Bob Manning, Margaret Mullen, and Gary Stephens to our class.

Then we were suddenly caught up in the whirl of high school life. "Frosh" initiation made us feel like accepted members of high school society. (It ought to be after walking around for a week wearing diapers and carrying little dolls!) It was our first year of inter-scholastic basketball and cheerleading. We welcomed Judy Cooper and Carolyn Calkins to join us in our assorted antics.

Our Sophomore year still seems hazy to many of us. It passed so fast that few of us remember what happened. We were joined in our mad rush of activities by Sally Hunt.

Before we realized it, we were upperclassmen and were ordering our class rings, choosing our Junior Play, and planning our Junior Prom. Our Junior Play was presented in the fall of the year and proved to be profitable for all concerned. "The Skeleton Walks" was a three-act mystery-comedy. For the first time we saw the "ham" instincts appear in many of our class members. Our cast consisted of: John Shuttleworth, Norma Biancuzzo, Ed Fleischman, Woody Moody, Jeanne Coombes, Kathryn Kenyon, Sally Hunt, John McCaffrey, Pati Shelley, and Marlee Hand. Our stage managers were Jerry Decker and Dennis Bunnell. Prompters were Carolyn Calkins and Edith Francisco.

Three members of the class were inducted into the National Honor Society: John Shuttleworth, Norma Biancuzzo, and Shirley Chind were tapped into the Society during a special assembly.

During our Senior year we were all excited when we entered the bus that would take us to Washington, D. C., along with our chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crowther.

After viewing the sights we all rushed home to fill out college application forms and to take college entrance exams. The year went so fast that we had to grab at memories to fill out our scrapbooks of high school.

It is now the year 1963. Thirty-one young adults close the doors of Belmont Central quietly behind them. They have learned of many things in the last thirteen years and are now going out into the world to learn more about their fellow man. The sun is shining and smiles appear on each face. They have closed the doors softly, but firmly, for there is no turning back. They can only move forward with time. What their lives may bring no one can anticipate, but they should be prepared to lead satisfying lives as mature adults.

BASEBALL - 1962

The 1962 Baseball season was a successful one for Belmont as the team captured the Class C Championship with a league record of 6 and 1. In regular season play Belmont and Cuba were tied with identical 5 and 1 records, but in the special playoff game the Bears defeated Cuba 9 to 6 to take the crown. In a very well played game with Romulus, Belmont was defeated 3 to 1.

The team ended up with an overall record of 7 wins and 4 losses, and despite the loss of several men, the future for 1963 is bright.

BASKETBALL

The Bears, paced by veteran seniors, John Shuttleworth and Woody Moody, have led the team to a very successful season thus far. The team, being fairly new, after losing 6 veterans last year, won the Fillmore Christmas tournament, and are hosting a 6-2 league record as of this date, and hope to better this before the season ends. The other promising young Bears that have also contributed to the success of the team are: Dennis Grastorf, Charles Francis, Don Miller, Bill Shuttleworth, Barrie Barnes, Dan Ross, and Bob Davison.

SOCCER

The 1962 Soccer season was very discouraging for the team as well as the new coach, Mr. Paul Parks. The Bears were winless in six starts with no wins, five losses, and one tie.

With the loss of four seniors, Woodrow Moody, John Shuttleworth, Gerald Decker and Ed Fleischman, the team will need a bit more rebuilding for next season.

Returning next year are Dennis Grastorf, Dan Miller, Bill Shuttleworth, Dan Ross, Cid Potter, Tom Osterhout, David Chilson, and Dick Watkins.
